THE SCORE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Twenty-six thousand fans are on hand to see the second game of the world's championship series.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—This city is baseball crazy today. The tie resulting from yesterday's game in the world championship series between the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago Cubs has boosted the already intense interest of the public into actual fanaticism.

The game will begin at 2 o'clock, instead of at 2:30, as was first scheduled, but nobody is waiting for that hour. Fans began crowding the cars for the ball park at 10 o'clock this morning, and crowds had assembled long before the appointed time.

Everywhere, in the hotels, in the streets, cafes, saloons, there is but one topic of conversation. The consensus of opinion among those who saw yesterday's game picks the Cubs to win today, on form. The Cubs finished easy winners in the National league, and are therefore in fine trim, while it is felt that the grilling finish between the Athletics and the Tigers in the American league left the winners in not the best condition for another hard battle.

The unfinished game of yesterday will be played off Thursday, thus enabling the players to participate in five games instead of four, as was originally planned. The batteries to-day will be:

Cubs—Pister and Kling.

Tigers—Mullin and Payne.

MILLIONAIRE'S WIFE INVOLVED IN BIG BURGLARY MYSTERY

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—More mystery surrounds the case of Mrs. Charles Romadke, of Milwaukee, wife of the millionaire leather man, in whose possession the diamonds stolen by a burglar from Mrs. Clarence Beck were found. The woman told conflicting stories, but concluded with the assertion that she had been given the jewels by "Ralph Smith," of whom she says she knows nothing. Neither the police nor her relatives could induce her to say more.

A negro known as Albert Jones, and ex-convict, has been arrested as the result of information secured from the books of the telephone company to the effect that Mrs. Romadke frequently called him up, and search of his room disclosed the presence of a great quantity of jewelry, most of it cheap. Jones claims this belongs to his wife, and that he has merely acted as a messenger for Mrs. Romadke. The police think Jones is "Ralph Smith."

Mrs. Romadke, accompanied by her husband and brother-in-law, made appearance in court, and the case was continued to Oct. 15.

BIG COMPAN YLOOTED, SAYS ANTHONY BRADY

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Startling testimony uncovering what is charged to be a big plot to loot the treasury of the Metropolitan Securities company of hundreds of thousands of dollars was brought out at the Interborough-Metropolitan inquiry of the public service commission. District Attorney Jerome was an interested listener.

He saw Anthony N. Brady, one of the wealthiest New York capitalists, take the witness stand and heard Mr. Brady practically accuse Thomas F. Ryan and the late William C. Whitney, both of New York, and Peter A. B. Widener, Thomas Doan and the late William L. Elkins, all of Philadelphia, of having looted the treasury of the Metropolitan Securities company in a single transaction of the sum of $111,652 apiece.

HENDERSON, Ky., Oct. 9.—The entire street car system is tied up today as the result of a strike of employees, who are angry because Supt. Cole was discharged.

LA CROSSE FANS ARE "DIPPY" OVER WORLD'S SERIES

BUSINESS NEGLECTED DURING THE AFTERNOONS

MUCH MONEY BEING POSTED

Enthusiasts Are Evenly Divided Between the Cubs and the Tigers in Championship Series

La Crosse is on tiptoe with excitement during the series of baseball games between the Chicago Nationals and the Detroit Americans for the championship of the world. The spirit of fandom has been exhibited by men running around, forgetting business to inquire "what's the score?" and rushing frantically about until the final scores are received.

The same spirit of enthusiasm so manifest in Chicago just now, is present in La Crosse, only to a lesser degree, caused by the difference in size of the two cities. Then Chicago is all Cubs, while La Crosse fans have divided their attentions between the two teams. Some favor the American league champions for the contest, while others bend their tendencies toward the National leaguers.

This division of choice has led to the formation of pools, bets and most anything else, where something may be wagered on the outcome of the games. Pools on single games, victories, and also on the series have been made in La Crosse and are patronized liberally. In cigar stores and other places where fans generally are found, these pools have been formed.

One pool of general satisfaction costs $1 to enter and will net the winner $18. A drawing takes place, each entrant receiving the name of one player for $1. The person getting the player who makes the most hits during the series will win the "pot." Another pool, along the same lines, but which costs only 25 cents to enter, and is for the game each day, has been made and attracts a crowd daily.

"Ty" Cobb, the leader of the American league in batting, is a favorite with La Crosse, although Schulte, Kling and Capt. Chance of the Cubs are strong drawing cards. Sam Crawford, also a slugger, who was second in the American league batting, and who drove in the runs of the Tigers with a sizzling two-bagger yesterday, also is another favorite. The pool is one of luck, but places the contestants in keen excitement.

Bets on the results of each game are being made at about even money, while odds of $4 to $5 are given on the Tigers. These figures prevail in Chicago and the same are being offered here.

The Tribune is sought every afternoon, during the hours of the game, by anxious fans to ascertain the score. Reports are received at the office direct from Chicago.

CROOKED STANDARD METHODS UNEARTHED

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Another strong point was made against Standard Oil late yesterday when Examiner Kellogg found under a mysterious account of "bills receivable" on the records, the Anglo-American company, a Standard concern asset of several million dollars, charged to "J. B. McDonald." In this account it is believed further investigation will show it to be the source of the funds for the mysterious English company which is known as General Industrial Development Oil company and the Security Oil company of Texas. Both of these purchases if proved to have been made by the Standard will show conclusively that the oil trust is using every means to establish a complete monopoly.

REV. KREMER TO DEDICATE CHURCH

Owing to the fact that the Rt. Bishop Schwebach will be on a confirmation tour Oct. 15, the Rt. Rev. Monsignor, A. Ph. Kremer of Genoa will conduct the services at the laying of the corner stone of the new Catholic church, about to be erected at Viroqua.

TOBACCO GROWERS OF BADGER STATE FIGHT THE TRUST

MINIMUM PRICES ADOPTED AT MADISON MEETING TODAY

223 LOCAL SOCIETIES IN

Will Stand Pat for Rate and Will Pool and Hold Crop, Borrowing On It

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The tobacco department of the American Society of Equity, which is in session in the capitol today, voted to charge fixed minimum prices for this year's crop of tobacco, and if the buyers refuse to pay it the members of the "farmers' trust" will make plans for pooling and selling direct to the manufacturers. The prices: In bundle, best crop, 15 cents per pound; medium, 12½¢; poor (to include all except trash), 10¢.

These are the very lowest prices the tobacco growers will accept. In case the tobacco is sized and assorted an advance of two cents on the minimum charges will be made. The farmers intend to get as much above the minimum as possible. The 150 delegates present, representing 223 local societies, state that they not only intend to stick to their minimum prices, but if they are unable to dispose of the crop in this manner, financial arrangements have been made with banks for obtaining money on the crop and the society will withhold its products from the market until the tobacco trusts pays what the farmers demand. To enforce the ruling it was voted to build large sheds for the various local societies, where the product will be brought, assorted, appraised and housed. This the society terms the "pooling" of the crop. Banks will then advance money on crop thus pooled.

ETHEL ROOSEVELT NOT TO MAKE DEBUT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—Washington society has learned with regret that Miss Ethel Roosevelt will not make her debut this winter. All summer long it has been expected she would enter society this season, but it has finally been determined she will not do so. Naturally there is disappointment, as it was hoped that with the "coming out" gaiety this would be an unusually brilliant season in respect to white house entertainments. While the president and

Mrs. Roosevelt will not allow things to drag at the executive mansion in a social way, still there will not be a debutante there.

Miss Roosevelt will not return to school, but will pursue her studies under a governess. She will study for another year and then, it is expected, will enter society. Her governess is Miss Young who was Mrs. Longworth's governess, and who trained all the children of the president's family in their younger days in languages, music and other studies. Miss Young was with the Roosevelts in their New York home before they came to Washington.

JUDGE QUARLES RETURNS HOME

Judge Quarles, who arrived in the city this morning to receive the indictments and discharge the grand jury, returned on the noon train to his home in Milwaukee, where he will take charge of a grand jury. Mr. Quarles came here from Milwaukee, in the absence of Judge A. L. Sanborn, who is at Boston, Mass., to receive the indictments of the jury here.

THEY SCORE HIT AT WASHINGTON

MAN WHO EXPOSED TAX DODGING OF GEORGE ASSAILED

SAYS HE IS ALL IN NOW

Historian Finds Truth Not Politic Digs Up the "Original" Hatchet.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Captain S. R. Donahue of Fairfax, Va., who disclosed for many years the record of George Washington's presentment for tax dodging, has had no peace since the exposure was printed. Every mail has brought to the captain a flood of angry and protesting letters.

"The naked truth seems to have offended the patriots, who look upon the 'Father of His Country' as mold-made from finer clay than his fellow mortals," said Captain Donahue. "They all seem to take my discovery as a personal offense instead of a new fact of history. It's mighty discouraging to a man who makes an excursion into the realms of historical research for the benefit of posterity to get forty-odd bumps a day from his own generation. I'm going to quit the history business after this."

Bad for Morals of Youth. "One letter was a mournful reproach in a feminine hand that suggested cats and tea and hailed from Massachusetts. 'How could you do it?' she wailed. 'You lower the moral tone of the youth of the country when you shake their faith in the great Washington.'"

"I replied that I did it for two reasons—one because it was true and the other because it needed the money."

O. K.'s the Hatchet Story. "It may calm the perturbed spirits of some of these outraged patriots to know that on the desk of Mr. Richardson, the county clerk of Fairfax, is lying a hatchet, aged and rusty, to which is attached a paper bearing this legend:

"The original hatchet used by George Washington. This ought to offset the tax dodging, unless the fact that the implement bears the trade-mark of a hardware firm in Bridgeport, Conn., may make some difference. Captain Donahue says he has discovered many other facts bearing upon the private life of the Squire of Mount Vernon, but after this present discouraging experience he is going to keep them locked in his bosom."

SEEKS PLACE FOR IDIOTIC PATIENTS

JUDGE BRINDLEY TAKES IT UP WITH BOARD OF CONTROL

MARY TRADER CASE IS UP

County Court Finds Her an Idiot, but Has No Fit Place to Which to Send Her

With the commitment of Mary Trader, 613 La Crosse street, as an idiot, Judge Brindley of the county court has instituted a campaign with the state board of control, seeking the establishment of a place in which idiotic persons may be confined. At present Wisconsin has not a place for these unfortunates.

The question of detention already has been taken up with the board of control by Judge Brindley and he expects an answer soon. On numerous occasions he has reminded them of the lack of a suitable home for these people, but nothing has been done. Where to send Mary Trader is the question that troubles. Officials at the state asylum at Mendota, Wis., are loath to accept idiots, because of the care necessary in maintenance, while the authorities at the county asylum at West Salem exhibit the same feeling. Two insane people may be cared for in the same time that one idiot consumes.

Drs. E. N. Reed and J. A. Rees examined Miss Trader, aged 38 years, and pronounced her an idiot. She has been afflicted since one week of age, and always has been dependent. Now her mother, aged 78, is unable to care for her daughter longer.

After the woman was pronounced an idiot, Judge Brindley wrote to the board of control, asking where to send her, while he also asked the officials at the West Salem asylum if they would take the case. As yet he has received no answers.

"The state ought to provide a home for these people, where they can be cared for and treated for their afflictions," said Judge Brindley today. "I have broached the subject to the members of the state board of control several times, but no action has been taken by them."

"I am writing them a letter today, giving them the facts in the Trader case, and also reminding them of the necessity of a home for idiots. Some action may be taken which would be of vast benefit to the state, the state insane and also the county insane asylums."

Frank Winter left Sunday for Richmond, Va., on legal business. He will visit Washington, D. C., before he returns home.

VOTE-BERGER COMPANY BUYS OLD THRESHING MACHINE PLANT

BOMBS BUCHTEL LOVER'S PLOT TO GET DARLING JOB

DEVIL MACHINES SENT COLORADO GOVERNOR IN MAIL

YOUTH "REVEALED" THE PLOT

Scheme to Become "Rescuer" Led to Mailing of Dynamite to Big Denver Men.

DENVER, Oct. 9.—A sensation reaching into two states, in which devil machines and love play leading parts, climaxed here yesterday when packages concealing bombs were simultaneously received by Governor Henry Buchtel, David Moffat, president of the First National bank and C. B. Kountze, president of the Colorado National bank.

The packages were so designed that the infernal machine would explode as soon as they were opened. Death was certain for whoever opened the packages carelessly.

That none of the men to whom the packages were addressed was blown to pieces was due to the fact that the police had received warning of an alleged plot and put the intended victims on their guard.

Police and City Dismayed.

Announcement of the desperate attempt made to kill the governor and the two bankers following closely upon the frustration of an attempt to assassinate Edward Chase on Sunday night, created a sensation in the city rivaled only by sensation of the miners' labor war.

Information of the plot was given the police by Kemp V. Bigelow, a book store clerk, who told a tale of having overheard two men in a dark street discussing their plans to "get" Chase. They told of the location of the dynamite that was to blow him and his home into smithereens. Acting on this information the police investigated and found fifty-three sticks of dynamite in front of the Chase residence, but no one appeared to explode them.

Bigelow told the police that in the conversation he overheard one of the men say: "We are going to get Moffat, Kountze, Buchtel, Phipps and Ed Case." These others were at once warned by the police, and when the suspicious looking packages arrived, they were not opened.

Bigelow Confesses.

Bigelow was suspected by the police after his voluntary "information," and the department wrung a confession from him. He not only admitted sending the bombs that were actually received, but said he had also mailed bombs to Chase and Phipps.

A Girl in It.

It is now known why Kemp Bigelow himself sent the bombs. Word from Bryan, O., indicates that Grace Mattox, a young woman living there, is Bigelow's sweetheart, and that he sought to send the bombs and then save the threatened men at the critical moment, thus putting them in his debt. Miss Mattox recently received a letter from Bigelow in which he said he "had a pull" with Buchtel, and would get her a job in Denver. It is thought that after making this "bluff" he was desperate in his desire to "make good" and evolve the scheme of saving the men from apparent jeopardy of his own creation.

Miss Mattox declines to discuss the affair, but admits her intimacy with Bigelow and that she has received letters from him.

GERMAN SOCIALIST ON TREASON CHARGE

LEIPSIC, Oct. 9.—Dr. Carl Liebknecht, leader of the radical revolutionary wing of the German socialists, charged with treason because he attacked "militarism" in a pamphlet and urged the spread of sedition among the soldiers, was brought to trial today before the supreme court. Liebknecht declared that the army is Germany's greatest burden. One sentence in his pamphlet reads: "Transform the armies into armed organizations of socialist and all the thrones of the despotic governments of Europe will crumble into dust." He declared the army is used by the kaiser only in cases of strikes and uprisings.

DEAL CLOSED IS ANNOUNCED TODAY

FACTORY WILL LEAVE THE NORTH SIDE.

MOVE MACHINERY AT ONCE

Portion of the Equipment Will Remain on North Side Until Improvements Can Be Made

The Vote-Berger company has purchased the plant of the La Crosse Threshing Machine company, 1800-1820 West avenue south, and will occupy the new property in the manufacture of telephones and switchboards. The consideration is not given out.

With the signing of a few papers, clearing away minor technicalities and establishing a perfect title to the property, the Vote-Berger company will take possession. Until this is done, the telephone plant will not be moved.

Negotiations for the purchase of the plant and buildings in the southern section of the city were practically closed last Saturday. All that remains is for the officers of the company to sign the transfer and purchase papers.

The Vote-Berger company will begin moving a part of the old plant to the south side within two weeks. In the spring extensive additions and improvements will be made so that the entire factory can be moved to the south side.

"We have purchased the plant of the threshing company," said Henry Gund, vice president of the Vote-Berger company today. "All that remains to be done is the signing of the papers, when we will take possession."

"I do not care to announce the price paid for the building."

"The general offices, the wood working, wood finishing and box factory will remain on the North side," said Marcel I. Berger, secretary and treasurer of the company this afternoon. "The remainder of the plant will be moved to the south side within the next two weeks. I don't know when we will take possession as the final papers have not been signed, but will be immediately."

"The company will operate two factories for the present. In the spring the whole factory will be moved to the south side. Improvements and additions will be made to the threshing company buildings, because they are not large enough to accommodate us."

The purchase of the new site with buildings will furnish the Vote-Berger company with an ideal plant. Good railroad facilities are to be found, while the factory is admirably adapted to the needs of the telephone company.

Plans had been drawn for a new factory on the North side, on the shore of Black river, but this will not be built. The plans called for an expenditure of $35,000 for a new fireproof and modern building.

MILLSTON GETS NEW RURAL ROUTE

"A new rural free delivery route has been established in the vicinity of Millston, Jackson county, and mail will be carried upon it the 2nd of December," said Congressman John J. Esch today.

"The arrangements for the route have been completed and a letter carrier will be put on by civil service examination in the near future. The examination will no doubt be taken at Black River Falls."

The people of the United States expend $60,000,000 every year for chewing gum.

KEENE'S STABLES

Earning Record Is Broken and Proof

Sometimes Pays

BELMONT PARK, N. Y., Oct. 9.—James K. Keene, the noted turfman, owner of the greatest stable of horses ever raced in America, won the event that gives him the world's record for earnings in a season's racing.

When Masque, a speedy 2-year-old of the veteran turfman's stable, captured the opening event, five and a half furlongs, and thus won a $900 purse, it made the total earnings of the Keene stable for the season $377,990, which is $316 more than the total earnings of the duke of Portland's stable on the English turf in the season of 1889.

The total of the duke's stable for that year was $377,574, and this has stood as a world's record up to the present time.

With the capture of the Matron stakes by Mr. Keene's sensational 2-year-old Colin, the total of the winnings of the horses carrying the Keene colors was raised to $377,990, or within a few hundred dollars of the record made by the duke of Portland's horses on the English turf in 1889, when they brought home $377,574.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—If the Tigers win the world's championship they will be rewarded with a small fortune for each man.

President and Owner William B. Yawkey of the Detroit club, who is a millionaire lumberman of Michigan, has promised that if they win the series he will reward them with greater amounts than has ever been given by any American league manager before. This will be in addition to their share of the gate money.

Considering the fact that Charley Comiskey handed over $15,000 to his players after the beat the Cubs last fall, it means that Mr. Yawkey will have to dig deep to beat it.

KLING DOES GREAT WORK

Team Managers Receive Bouquets and Cheers, and Batter Gets a Diamond Medal.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 9.—Yesterday was a great day in baseball circles. When the teams reached the grounds, and the fans had got past the gates there was a rousing reception for Capt. Jennings, and a doubly rousing one for Capt. Chance.

Somebody sent the Cubs' captain a huge bunch of red roses in which was enmeshed a pretty white dove. When the roses were opened the dove, beat it for the grandstand roof, white ribbons and all.

A beautiful diamond medal was presented to Ty Cobb, the champion batter of the American league, and then after a conference between the captains and the umpires and a general girding of loins, the game was on the griddle.

Umpire O'Day was behind the plate and Umpire Sheridan looked after the bases. It may be said in passing that both umpires did excellent work throughout the game.

Big Jeff Overall took his place in the box and Hughie Jennings sprang to the coaching line with a shrill "E-e-yah" that could be heard all over the ground.

Things came fast and plenty right from the start. Between the hoarse bellowing of the spectators the strident voice of O'Day and the yells of Jennings at his men, one scarcely knew which way to look.

No Runs in Early Innings.

The first inning was marked by some wildness on the part of Overall, which luckily did no damage. He gave Jones a base on balls, but the Tiger was forced at second by Schaefer's blunder to Steinfeldt. The best the Tigers could do to bring Schaefer home was a tremendous fly to center by Crawford, which looked as though it might go over Slagle's head. The rabbit got it only after sprinting back fifty yards or more.

To Jimmy Sheekard of the Cubs fell the first hit of the game. In Chicago's half of the first he hit a liner past third. He stole second and got to third on Schaefer's clip. Both sides then fought evenly and well, up to the fourth inning the pitchers seemed to improve.

Kling was the very life and backbone of his team. Seldom or never has prettier throwing to bases been seen. He had the Tigers frozen to the bases from first to last.

The Chicagoans had a man on third each inning up to the fourth, but could not bring them around owing to the sharp, sure work of the Tigers. Up to the seventh inning the Tigers had the better of the hitting, Donovan showing great speed and control at critical junctures.

It is possible that Detroit might have won the game had it not been for their fatuous belief that they could take liberties with Kling's throwing to bases. They might just as well have taken liberties with a rifle ball.

Chicago Scores First

Chicago scored the first run of the series in the fourth inning, when Donovan gave Chance a base on balls and Steinfeldt sent the Captain to second with a sacrifice. Then Kling set the great crowd wild with a low line drive to left field. Jones came in for it hot foot and Chance put for home with all the speed in his toes.

In came the ball straight as a chalk line for the plate, but Chance went down like a shot partridge and reached home in a cloud of dust.

Schmidt, seeing Chance safe under his feet, drove the ball to second and caught Kling on a steal. It was a fine play and set the crowd by the ears.

An instance of Kling's fine work occurred in the fifth inning when Schmidt reached first on a safe fly to left. O'Leary sacrificed him to second and then Jones sent a hot bouncer to Evers, reaching first on an extremely close decision.

Fine Work by Kling.

Here Kling's play occurred. Jones started to steal second. Quick as a flash Kling bluffed as though he to throw to second, then wheeled and caught Schmidt at third, although the latter was not eight feet from the bag.

It was hammer and tongs up to the eighth inning, although Detroit had a man on third in the sixth inning. In the eighth the Tigers took the lead, making three runs on a single by Jones, who stole second, a fumble by Tinker of Schaefer's hit, Crawford's single to right, Schulte's wild throw to the plate and a long out by Rossman to Slagle.

This settled Mr. Overall, as Chance, after tying the score in the ninth, put Reulbach in to pitch.

The Cubs tied the score in the ninth on Chance's single, a bob for Steinfeldt, and a fumble by Coughlin which filled the bases. Then Chance scored on a long fly by Schulte and Donovan pitched wild. Steinfeldt coming home and tying the game. Darkness ended the game at the twelfth inning. The score:

WESTERN GOLF
CHAMPION LOSES

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Eastern women again carried off the honors in the first match round for the national women's championship here yesterday, ten surviving the eighteen hole test, as against six westerners. National Champion Miss Harriet F. Curtis of Boston defeated western champion, Miss Lillian French of Winsor, wining by 2 up. Miss French held the lead up to the fourth hole, but relinquished it at this point, Miss Curtis leading by 1 up at the turn. Today Miss Curtis will oppose Miss Margaret Martin of the Chicago Golf club.

CLEVELAND'S EXHIBIT.

(Cleveland Leader.)
During September there were more than 1,133 children born in this city. Of this number 604 were boys and 529 girls. Not in the history of Cleveland have the figures of one month been so large. And it must be added that the births at the hospitals are not included in this aggregate, so that the grand total would be even greater than shown by the vital statistics.

Old residents advise that the attention of the president be called to the figures quoted.

George Kept Him Busy.

A well-known Virginia clergyman, one-time president of William and Mary college, was married three times, and on each occasion the ceremony was performed by his brother an even more renowned bishop. When the first marriage took place the bishop had to refuse a tempting invitation from an old friend because—so the letter ran—"I am going up to Williamsburg on that date to marry my brother George."

The same friend happened to be on the train with him, years afterward, when he was traveling to the second ceremony. "I am going to marry my brother George," the bishop explained, benignly, after the business of greetings was over. Again many years passed, and the same journey was taken once more for the same purpose. By a strange coincidence the identical friend ran into the bishop as they hurried through the depot to their respective trains. "Where are you going, bishop?" the former sang out as they grasped hands and dashed by each other.

"I am going where I am always going, the answer came back, ponderously, "to marry my brother George!"—Harper's Weekly.

MAKE THIS MIXTURE
AT HOME YOURSELFWhat will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a prominent health journal, giving a simple prescription, as formulated by a noted authority, who claims that he has found a positive remedy to cure almost any case of backache or kidney or bladder derangement, in the following simple prescription, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease:
Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well-known local druggist, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic afflictions with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the entire kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter, which cause sickness and suffering. Those who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

CLEVELAND'S EXHIBIT.

(Cleveland Leader.)

During September there were more than 1,133 children born in this city. Of this number 604 were boys and 529 girls. Not in the history of Cleveland have the figures of one month been so large. And it must be added that the births at the hospitals are not included in this aggregate, so that the grand total would be even greater than shown by the vital statistics.

Old residents advise that the attention of the president be called to the figures quoted.

LAST SPECIAL VOTE OFFER TO EXTEND OVER A PERIOD OF
TWO WEEKS, OCT. 8TH TO 19THFIRST WEEK STARTING IN WITH GREAT RAIN
OF SUBSCRIPTIONS FROM ENTHUSIASTIC
CONTESTANTS IN CITY AND COUNTRY

POSITIVELY THE LAST AND BEST OFFER

Every Available Subscription Should Be Handed in this Week, as the Schedule Will be Decreased for The Following Two Weeks.

It is to be hoped that contestants will realize that this week is positively the best one in The Tribune's $3,500 contest. No more offers of any kind will be inaugurated after the expiration of the ones outlined in the ad. on another page of this issue. If so cut out the coupon, bring it to The Tribune office and get a free trip to New York.

Every contestant now knows exactly what is coming and can work accordingly. Everything from now to the close of the contest will occur exactly as outlined at present.

This is certainly the week for effort, as votes for all subscriptions (old or new) are exactly doubled. This liberal offer has not appeared before, and will not appear again. So take advantage of it while it lasts. THIS IS TRULY OPPORTUNITY WEEK.

Next week the votes will be reduced just 50 per cent of this week's offer. The closing week only the original amount of votes will be allowed on all subscriptions.

The race is a great deal closer than many of the contestants think, and in order to win, the vote total has got to go soaring pretty rapidly. Those that throw all their energy into the work this week are sure to win, as this is the one week of the contest that will tell the finish.

More votes can be gained this week than in any two weeks of the contest put together. So it is certainly up to the contestants to do their best while the offer lasts. Keep on the lookout and be ready for dark horses as there may be several in the race who are working silently but diligently. Get a big reserve of votes ready for the grand finish, Oct. 25.

The country districts have waked up in great shape the last week or so, and are certainly giving the leaders in the city a close race. The capital prizes are often won in the country, and it looks at present, like a tug of war between the city and the country districts for the capital prize, the Buick touring car.

Take advantage this week of the offer extraordinary.

THE WAYS OF "BOB" AND "TEDDY."

During the discussions of the various presidential possibilities it not infrequently occurs that President Roosevelt and Senator La Follette are compared. What's the difference?

In aims, little or nothing. In methods, everything.

President Roosevelt believes that if the best possible law cannot be secured, compromise with its opponents to get the best that they will "stand for," is politic. Once the principle involved in the law is established, even in a ragged way, it is a matter of only time and effort to piece-meal it up to the desired standard of perfection.

La Follette's policy is to accept no compromise with the opponents of absolute right, believing that government cannot safely and honorably "dicker" with evil. He would sacrifice a law that would do some good, to this principle, and he would fight it out to a finish.

There is some logic on each side of this question of propriety and efficiency. President Roosevelt can point to some fairly good laws resulting from such compromise, which with a little amending will become satisfactory throughout. On the other hand, here in Wisconsin, La Follette can point to an unbroken record of accomplishment in which his uncompromising method was used.

Perhaps we in the Badger state are not impartial, but most of us like the La Follette plan. And what a governor can do in a state, a president should be able to do in the nation.

BY DIVINE RIGHT.

Ever since, something more than a year ago, President Baer of the Reading railroad won the title of "Divine Rights Baer," by asserting that the Almighty had chosen a few trusted mortals to have and to hold most of creation's wealth for the "benefit" of the "masses," it has been a source of speculation who the other trusted ones, beside Mr. Baer, were.

Now—he tells it himself—it develops that John D. Rockefeller is one

MEN OF NOTE

Knute Nelson

Hon. Knute Nelson, United States senator from Minnesota, was born in Norway on February 2nd, 1843, and came to the United States in 1849. He resided in Chicago from 1849 until 1851 and then removed to Wisconsin where he remained until 1871 when he finally settled in Minnesota. He served in the Union army and after the war studied law being admitted to the bar of Wisconsin in 1867. He served in the state legislature in 1868 and was a state senator from 1875 until 1878. He was governor of Minnesota from 1892 until 1895. His home is in Alexandria, Minn.

of the annotated. He confesses that he does not own the money, that he is merely appointed by the Omnipotent as lord high keeper of the cash for the fools that mortals be.

Well, assuming that Heaven made no mistake in entrusting to "Divine Rights Baer" any portion of the gold that is thus held "in trust" for the "dear people" (who may be damned), it cannot be doubted that the selection of Mr. Rockefeller is suitable. He has proved a most persistent collector, and it cannot be said that he has squandered the trust fund. It is all there, and barring a little pin money spent on universities whose only fault has been their disinclination to teach the youth of the land that, next to Rockefeller, the Deity is the greatest of beings, he has kept it safely. In fact, the money that is to be kept could not have a better "steward" than John D. Rockefeller. May the Saints preserve him—in solitary confinement.

TWO MADE A BARGAIN.

Gladys Vanderbilt has arranged to acquire a title. She gets a Hungarian count, and the Hungarian count, who is "reputed to be rich," gets a donation from the prospective bride of five millions of dollars. If he receives beyond this paltry sum any other perquisites, they are not mentioned in the post-nuptial agreement.

Well, it is a fair bargain. Any girl with as much money as Miss Vanderbilt has, and her other accomplishments, should be willing to pay five millions for a husband; and any count whose roving days are over should be willing to marry any girl for five millions.

When it was announced, while the world's championship series was absorbing all interest, that President Roosevelt was going bear hunting, many people simply thought it an official announcement that he is a Tiger fan.

It appears that the principle of "the survival of the fittest" cannot fairly be applied to the Hartje case, but possibly the public will finally be relieved by the application of the rule for the subsidence of the unfit.

Doubtless both the Tigers and the Cubs are cursing the premature arrival of darkness yesterday.

And in the very midst of the spasm, who should come home but "Doc."

Done Her Part

"What have you done for the betterment of mankind?" asked the scornful female person.
"Me?" answered the plump and widely looking one; "I have been a better half to no fewer than three of them."—Tit-Bits.

FASHION HINTS

(By May Manton.)

5797 Princess Gown,
22 to 40 bust

To be made in Round or Walking Length.

The princess gown always is a graceful and attractive one and just now it is high in favor with la mode. This one is peculiarly desirable and can be made available for a greater variety of figures than the more severe sort while it retains the long characteristic lines at front and back which give such desirable effect of slenderness and height. The model is made of orchid colored faille silk with trimming of chiffon velvet bands and chemisette of ecru lace over white, while the front and back panels are held by lovely amethyst buttons. But the season shows an exceptional number and variety of pretty soft and pliable fabrics all of which are suitable. Voile and marquisette are well deserved favorites and would be charming so made. There are many beautiful silks that are correct and for the still simpler gown the soft finished cashmeres and the like are to be commended. Again as the skirt can be cut in either round or walking length, the model becomes desirable for street as well as indoor wear, where it would be exceedingly handsome as well as smart made of chiffon broadcloth and worn with one of the graceful wraps of which the season is prolific.

The gown is made with blouse and skirt portions that are joined by a belt and with the front and back panels that are extended to the square neck. It is closed invisibly at the back and there is a pretty chemisette while the square neck is finished with a flat collar. The graceful sleeves are gathered and finished with shaped cuffs. The skirt is made in ten gores and is laid in plaits that are stitched flat over the hips.

For a woman of medium size will be required 16 yards of material 21 or 27 inches wide, 8 1/4 yards 44 inches wide, with 2 1/2 yards of velvet and 3/4 yard of all over lace to make as illustrated.

The pattern 5797 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inch bust measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

A MONSTER KITE.

(The World Today.)

Probably the most wonderful and ingenious achievement of a Chinese kite-maker is designed to represent a gigantic centipede. This is unquestionably the longest and most fantastic amusement device that has ever been constructed for aerial flight. From head to tail it measures nearly four feet, and is made to fold up accordionlike. The fierce large head of the creature, with long protruding horns, huge eyes and gaping mouth, forms the front of the kite. This is the gem and marvel of the whole collection and entirely new to the eyes of the western world.

Its construction is as follows: Extending from head to tail and constituting the body portion is a series of bamboo sticks running crosswise to the center, to which are fastened twenty-five or more pasteboard disks a foot or more in diameter. These are painted in circles of black, yellow, and white, representing the all seeing eyes of this mythological creature. A tail portion of narrow strips is fastened to the last piece of bamboo. By a mechanical contrivance the curved pieces of pasteboard forming the eyes are made to revolve by the wind while the kite is being flown.

Seen in the air, with serpentine-like motion, its huge glaring eyes swiftly twirling in their sockets, the effect is said to be astonishingly realistic, producing quite an awe inspiring scene, to the Chinese mind at least. While being flown a cord is attached to three or more points of its length, in order to keep it under control. In a strong wind several men are required to hold the reel. Undoubtedly we have here one of the first and most ancient patterns of flying machines, thousands of years old.

SPOTLIGHTS

The program at the Bijou this week is one of great interest and will well repay one the time and money spent. Walt Terry and Nellie Elmer in their comedy dancing sketch "The Doctor and the Show Girl," are versatile and pleasing. Miss Elmer displays a beautiful costume and for a large woman is exceptionally graceful and does her dance well. Mr. Terry and Miss Elmer are a good team and present a very good sketch.

Mr. Walter McCollough in his "one man tragedy" entitled "The Absinthe Fiend," does marvelously good work and fairly makes the hair rise with "legitimate" acting. His make-up is excellent and his blood-curdling laughs are the real thing.

This turn is a little out of the ordinary at the Bijou and is much welcomed and enjoyed.

Charles Nelson and Mamie Milledge in their comedy comedy, "Glass Put In," are the real comedians of the season so far. Mr. Nelson is irresistibly funny and has a perfect scream of a costume in the latter part of the farce. Miss Milledge is a good support and presents a good stage appearance.

The songs which wind up this turn might be more interesting, but it seems good to see a comedy stunt wherein the desire for real laughter is found.

Miss Decker is gladly welcomed to the Bijou by its many patrons as the illustrated song singer. She has a sweet soprano voice and sings with expression; perhaps her words might be spoken just a little plainer.

The moving pictures are an entertainment in themselves—this week's star picture being a view of one of the famous "Dreadnoughts" of the English navy.

Several views of the ocean are shown which are always fascinating.

It adds much to the enjoyment of the pictures to have the accompaniments so well played by Miss Mae Wilson, the pianist.

MARY ANN.

Teh Hypocrites.

That brilliant English playwright, Henry Arthur Jones, has never written a play which approaches in brilliancy of dialogue or construction his latest play, "The Hypocrites," which at the present time is being presented by Charles Frohman both in this country and in England with remarkable success and which last year was the dramatic triumph of the season in New York, where it ran for seven months at the Hudson theatre.

The story is a powerful one and told with all the forcefulness for which Mr. Jones is notably noted. The dialogue runs without a jar, it strikes straight to the point. There is no quibbling. The author has not one wayward thought, his solitary concern is the problem, besetting all the characters and he carries his work to a climax which is tremendous without overreaching himself or pulling subsidiary incidents to his aid.

The coming of "The Hypocrites" is one of the unquestioned hits, dramatically, of the present season and Charles Frohman presents the play with one of the most perfect organizations that it has been possible to get together, drawing his players from both sides of the ocean in order that their personalities might fit the various roles to which they are assigned. Richard Bennett and Jessie Millward play the two principal parts. Charles Frohman presents "The Hypocrites" at the La Crosse theatre, Thursday, Oct. 10.

THE SPINNING WHEEL.

(Housekeeper Magazine.)

The invention of the art of spinning was ascribed by the ancients to Minerva, the goddess of wisdom. The date 1500 B. C. is given as that of the beginning of the art in Greece, under the direction of the king of Arcadia, but pictured inscriptions on Egyptian monuments show that the use of the spindle and distaff was known in that country much earlier.

The first distaff was simply a stick around which the fiber to be spun was loosely coiled, held in the left hand; the spindle was a sort of top set in motion by a twirl of the hand, the fiber passing between the finger and thumb of the right hand. This invention was improved upon in the course of time by placing the spindle in a frame, and making it revolve by mechanical action of the hand or foot in connection with a wheel or treadle, thus giving the true spinning wheel. The first recorded use of this was in the early years of the sixteenth century, but it was probably made and used long before this. The first spinning jenny, a machine working eight spindles, was invented in 1867.

BIGGEST EVER.

(Free Press.)

That the man who tells the last story has the best chance to tell the best one is no more true than that he who builds the last ocean liner has all predecessors beaten, if that is what he is building for.

The Lusitania, the big new Cunarder, is not only the largest steamship afloat, but it is also the swiftest; and Englishmen have been rather pluming themselves for the past month on having done it.

But there was never anything made so big that a bigger could not be built, as the German-American company is going to show. It has already placed an order for a ship that is to register 50,000 tons—a half larger than the Lusitania, but with less pretension to speed. It is to be called the Europa and is to be in commission before 1910. The monster is to be built in the Belfast yard of Harland & Wolff.

THE GIANT'S STRENGTH

BY BASIL KING

(Copyrighted by Harper & Bros.)

She ended abruptly, with a quaver in her voice, like a little wail. Wiltshire sprang to his feet, and took two or three turns up and down the gravel-path. Returning, he resumed his seat beside her.

"You mustn't do anything rash in the matter," he said gently. "You mustn't have the air of seeming to judge your father."

"I don't," she answered quickly. "I know he didn't do anything wrong. I should never admit otherwise. Only—"

She did not finish the sentence, and Wiltshire, leaning towards her, laid his hand on hers.

"Dear Paula," he whispered, "couldn't we let it be, until you and I could manage it together?"

She did not withdraw her hand from his touch, but the eyes she lifted towards him were full of the mute appeal of an animal begging to be let off.

"You've never answered my question—my great question," he went on, tenderly.

"I've been trying to," she managed to say.

"And you don't find it easy?" She shook her head, letting her sat erect.

"But you've been making the effort?"

"Yes," she murmured, just audibly.

"And it's been a great effort?"

"Yes."

"So great, in fact, that you don't feel the strength to make it."

"I'm trying to," she said, hurriedly. "I want to."

"You want to? In what way?" Again she lifted her appealing eyes to him.

"I—I want to please father," she stammered, "and make you happy, and—and—"

"And sacrifice yourself," he added.

"It wouldn't be a sacrifice if I could do those two things," she stammered on.

"That is," he corrected, "not so great a sacrifice but that you could make it."

She nodded her assent. A few seconds passed in silence, when Wiltshire slowly withdrew his hand and erect.

"I've hurt you," Paula cried, turning sharply towards him. "That isn't what I meant to say. You haven't understood me. I'm ready to be your wife if it will make you happy. Indeed, I'm ready. You don't know how I honor you, how good I think you, how—"

"Oh, yes, I do," he broke in, with a warm smile. "I only thought that perhaps it might be possible, after all, for a woman to do a little more than honor me, and think me—"

"I'm sure it is," Paula insisted, warmly. "Let me try, let me—"

"Oh, but you have tried. And such things as that don't come from trying. They come spontaneously, or not at all. I'm not hurt. I know you far too well to think you would hurt anything that breathes—and still less me. But I'll tell you something. We've always been good friends, haven't we—that is, for three or four years past?"

"And I've rather spoiled things between us by bringing up this subject, which, I might have known from the first, was impossible. Suppose we go back to what we were before. Suppose we blot all this out, as if it had never happened. Wouldn't that be a relief to you?"

"Yes," she said, in an unsteady voice.

"Then we'll do it. I won't undertake to give up hoping. No one could to whom you hadn't absolutely said no. But I shan't bother you with my hopes, and if, in the end, I have to bury them—why, then, we'll see."

"How good you are!" Paula said, softly, two big tears falling in spite of her efforts to keep them back.

"Don't say that," he protested. "You speak of goodness only because you don't know—love. But you're tired," he added, rising. "Wouldn't you like me to take you home? I dare say we shall find a fiacre in the Place that will take us down by the carriage-road."

Late that evening, when Paul Trafford kissed his daughter to say good-night, she twined her arm over his shoulder and detained him.

"I've seen the Duke," she whispered, "and he wouldn't have me."

"He—?" Trafford began, in a puzzled voice.

"He thought it was a sacrifice on my part," she exclaimed, looking up at him with glowing eyes, "and he wouldn't let me make it. It's all over."

"And would it have been a—sacrifice?" he demanded, with shaggy brows drawn together.

"Not if I could have pleased you,"

His face cleared as he bent low and kissed her again.

"Then I shall only keep my little girl the longer," was all he said.

CHAPTER VII.

"I'm going to do it, Laura," Paula whispered, as they approached the luncheon-table. "I mean the portrait. I've got his address, and I'm going this afternoon."

There was no time to say more, for Mrs. Trafford entered the room, followed by George Trafford and little Paul.

There had been several reasons for their return to Paris in the early days of February. The protracted absence of Mr. Trafford in Germany and Russia was the only one they spoke of openly. The Duke's silent departure from Monte Carlo, taking the spirit out of their little band, was a subject they mentioned to one another only when Paula was not there. The sudden anxiety of Mrs.

CONDUCTOR HURT BY FALLING TIMBER

While walking over his train near Etter to see that everything was in good shape, W. G. Frost, a well known conductor on the River Division met with a painful accident. Together with one of the brakemen he came to a car loaded with heavy timbers a few of which seemed to have been shaken loose and were about to fall from the car. While trying to rearrange them one of the timbers fell to the ground and one end flew up, striking him under the jaw. Mr. Frost stayed with his train as far as La Crosse and at this place was met by the road physician who ordered him to be taken to the hospital where his wounds were dressed. Mr. Frost's jaw was badly swollen, so bad in fact that he couldn't talk. But according to the reports of his physician the injuries will not result seriously and he will be able to resume his duties in a few days.

CHANGE IN THE ROADMASTER'S OFFICE

It has been rumored among the local railroad people that a change will soon be made in the yard master's office of the Milwaukee road at Savannah. According to the report Yardmaster Cook at that place has already resigned his position and will go to work as a passenger conductor. Just what reason Mr. Cook has for resigning is not known. As yet no successor has been named to fill Mr. Cook's place and no other definite steps have been taken.

TRAMP BOYS TRY TO GET HOME

A number of tramp boys entertained the passengers in the Milwaukee depot here yesterday with songs and clog dances. The boys were waiting for a train and intended to try and beat their way back to their homes in Minneapolis. According to the stories told by the boys they had been induced by a side show man to leave their homes in Minneapolis to make the fair circuit. At the last place they showed they claim the manager cleared out neglecting to pay them their wages or even enough to buy meals with.

All things may come to those who wait, but the trouble is most of us want it right now.

THOUGHT CROWD OF BOYS

North Side Woman Throws Food to Eight Coveys of Quail and They Stay About All Day

Yesterday morning Mrs. S. A. Shinkel, 1429 Charles street, was awakened by a peculiar whistling coming from her back yard. The persistency with which it was continued caused her to rise, thinking it was a crowd of boys bent on mischief.

To her surprise upon looking into the yard she beheld a great flock of quail—she estimates there were a hundred and fifty of them—walking about the yard, whistling shrilly.

Mrs. Shinkel was careful not to frighten the birds, and going to the back door tossed food to them. The birds ate eagerly, and during the entire day remained about the yard, gathering in coveys under the rose bushes and shrubs, eating the food she tossed to them from time to time.

Mrs. Shinkel counted eight coveys of the birds.

Believe Company Did Not Intend to Stay on North Side—M. L. Berger Tells of the Conditions

It was rumored this morning that at the regular meeting of the North Side Progressive league, to be held tonight, resolutions would be offered condemning the action of the Vote-Berger company in leaving the North side and boycotting the goods of several other companies in which some of the most influential directors of the Vote-Berger company were interested.

It seems to be the prevailing opinion among the residents of the North side as well as the members of the league that they were handed a sort of a "lemon" when the Vote-Berger company decided to accept the site and plant of the old Threshing Machine company on the South side.

The chief idea is that when the company announced that they intended to buy the old Sawyer and Austin site and that the plans had already been drawn for a modern plant to be located there, it was merely a ruse to get the Threshing Machine company's plant at a reduced price. If the matter of framing up and adopting resolutions at this meeting is brought up it is not known just what action will be taken.

Marcel I. Berger of the Vote-Berger company said that the sympathy of the company and the directors had always been with the North side and that when they were first offered the Threshing Machine plant the offer was turned down at that time, and steps were taken to buy the Sawyer and Austin site, and plans were drawn for a new and modern building that would fill all of the requirements of the company. At the time of the opening of the bids, however, it was found that they exceeded the estimate by so far that they were practically forced to accept the Threshing plant, which could be secured at a much lower price owing to the bad financial condition of that company. In winding up the statement he said that it was purely a matter of economy with the directors of the company and it was up to them to place the money of the

In regard to labor conditions, he said, the talk that there was more labor on the North side than on the south was not true, and that it had been their experience, time and again, that when they hired a young man, just out of school, it was more than likely that after he had reached the point where he was of some value to the company he would draw his pay and announce that he was going into the railroad business.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF WEYERHAUSERS

PASS LA CROSSE ENROUTE TO FESTAL SCENE

STORY OF STRIKING CAREER

Frederick Weyerhaeuser, Once Compactly Poor Boy Now "Richer Than Rockefeller."

Is Friday an unlucky day?

On the 11th of October, fifty years ago, Miss Elizabeth Bloedel was wedded to Frederick Weyerhaeuser, the millionaire lumberman, at Coal Valley, Ill., and Mr. Weyerhaeuser has since been heralded as one of the wealthiest men in the United States and at one time was said to be wealthier than any other man in this country.

They will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Friday at Rock Island, Ill., and passed here last evening on the boat which bears the lumberman's name, for that city, there were on board about fifty persons including the millionaire and his wife. The boat was fittingly decorated for the occasion with beautiful Golden sprigs.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser was born at Nieder Saulheim, Germany, Nov. 21, 1834, and was the son of John and Katherine (Gabel) Weyerhaeuser, and the oldest child. He received most of his education in Germany and immigrated to this country in 1852 locating in Northeast Pennsylvania.

He moved in 1856 to Coal Valley, Ill., where he engaged in the grain and lumber business and married on Friday, October 11, 1857. In 1860 he moved to Rock Island, where he will celebrate his 50th wedding anniversary, next Friday, in the presence of a large number of his old friends and numerous relatives.

Here he went into partnership with F. C. Denkmann, purchasing the Rock Island saw mill which ran for some time under the name of Weyerhaeuser and Denkmann. His lumbering business has grown immensely since that time and he is now recognized as one of the great lumbermen in the country. He moved from that city to St. Paul and still resides at his palatial home built in 1861 at 266 Summit avenue.

Mr. Weyerhaeuser's sons assist him greatly in the management of his business although he keeps in touch with all his interests and directs the line of work. He is president of Weyerhaeuser and Co., and owns large timber districts in Washington, Idaho, Minnesota and Idaho.

The celebration will take place at the home of one of the daughters, Mrs. S. S. Davis, who resides in the old Weyerhaeuser homestead at Rock family reunion as well as a golden wedding.

DO YOUR MEALS FIT?

Do You Feel Snug and Comfortable Around Your Waist Line After a Hearty Meal?

Did your last meal taste deliciously good to you, and did you eat all you wanted? Could you have patted your rotundity in glee and felt proud of your appetite and of your good strong stomach? Do you feel rosy now because your last meal gave you no inconvenience whatever? If not, you have dyspepsia in some form, and probably never realized it.

If you have the least trouble in your stomach after eating, no matter how little or how much you eat, there is trouble brewing and you must correct it at once.

Most all stomach troubles come from poor, weak, scanty gastric juice, that precious liquid which ought to turn your food into rich, red blood.

If you have nausea, your gastric juice is weak. If you have sour risings or belchings, your food is fermenting; your gastric juice is weak. If you have loss of appetite, your gastric juice is weak. If you have a bloaty feeling of aversion to food, your gastric juice is weak.

You need something in your stomach to supply the gastric juice which is scanty, and to give power to the weak gastric juice. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing.

Now think—one grain of one of the ingredients of these wonderful little tablets digests 3,000 grains of food. They are several times more powerful than the gastric juice in a good, strong powerful stomach. They actually digest your food for you. Besides, they increase the flow of gastric juice, just what you need to get all the good possible out of everything you eat. You will never have that "lump of lead" in your stomach nor any other stomach trouble after taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Then everything you eat will be digested, it will give you strength, vim, energy and a rosy disposition. You'll feel good all around your waist line after every meal and it will make you feel good all over.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will make you feel happy after eating a good, hearty meal. Take one or two after eating. You'll feel fine—then your meals will fit, no matter what or when you eat.

We want to send you a sample package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets free of charge, so you can test them yourself and be convinced. After you have tried the sample, you will be so satisfied that you will go to the nearest drug-store and get a 50c box.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Rev. Stocking of Minneapolis Tells Instance of Saving Man Who Was La Crosse Beggar

The first annual meeting of the Union City Mission was held last evening at the First Presbyterian church, and although the audience was small there was a great deal of enthusiasm shown and the success of the first year of the mission was shown by a report submitted by Supt. A. M. Ivey. In Mr. Ivey's report the detailed work of the year was gone over showing the good achieved in the past and gave suggestions regarding the work that should be done in the future. John M. Holley, treasurer, in his report showed that a total amount of money to have been collected was $1,028.35, the disbursements were $1,016.81, leaving a balance of $11.54 now in the treasury.

George B. Marvin, Jr., Henry Hallauer, John Shriver, B. S. Steadwell and W. W. Withee were elected as directors for three years.

Following the business work of the mission, Mr. C. M. Stocking, superintendent of the Minneapolis mission, addressed the meeting, going over the work that had been done and how the mission was started on a small plan and had grown to its present quarters in a building that was purchased by subscription at a cost of $60,000, and the trials that were undertaken to raise the required amount. He urged that the La Crosse mission appoint a good live finance committee to raise a fund so that the mission could secure a home on the ground floor, believing more people would be attracted than in the present home on the second floor.

In speaking of the converts won at Minneapolis he gave as an example a gentleman now prominent in Minneapolis business circles who was at one time a beggar at La Crosse. While begging here he was given a $5 gold piece for a penny by a La Crosse woman, later being arrested by the La Crosse police for theft, when about to leave the city. After being released at La Crosse he went to Minneapolis and was found by the City Mission and saved.

This convert's name is Roy Logtson, and when telling Mr. Stocking of the La Crosse affair, he said he had worked this city about 50 times and at one time, when he was working with a pal, they came to La Crosse on an excursion and got about $2 on the train.

CHARITY BALL HOLIDAY WEEK

At the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the La Crosse hospital, Monday afternoon it was decided to give the annual charity ball during the Christmas vacation.

The affair will be in charge of the president, Mrs. John Brindley, who will appoint a committee to arrange the details of the ball. It was originally planned to hold the charity ball during Thanksgiving week, but owing to the fact that the Sangerfest committee has engaged the hall for a bazaar and carnival the auxiliary decided to postpone the event until the holiday week.

WANT BIRDS TO KILL PESTS.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 9.—Members of the international conference of cotton growers and manufacturers in session here adopted resolutions calling on the United States government to protect the birds which feed on the boll weevil, the worst of insect cotton pests.

The committee on growing and handling of cotton reported that the Egyptian form of bale be adopted as fast as possible. This bale has one more tie and one more binder than the American bale, and burlap is used instead of jute in binding. The saving by this, it is asserted, would be enormous.

Mr. G. L. Halstead and son, Mr. Charles F. Halstead, are guests for a few days of Mr. Alex Forbes. They will leave the first of next week for Columbus, Ga., where they will go to reside on account of the ill health of Mr. C. L. Halstead. They are old residents of the city and will be missed by many old friends.

REPRODUCE FAIR GIVEN IN 1850

GALESVILLE PIONEERS WILL REBUILD IT FROM MEMORY

NOTABLE FEATURE NEXT YEAR

Only Two of Original Directors Remain in Neighboring City, but They Will Reproduce It

GALESVILLE, Wis., Oct. 9.—The officers of the Trempealeau County Agricultural society have taken steps at this early date to make the next annual show a little the biggest county fair ever held in Wisconsin. Next year the society will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary, and this event the officers propose to celebrate in connection with the fair. The steps taken so far have been only preliminary, but a program has been outlined. An effort will be made to get together all the old settlers in the county, and particularly those who attended the first fair at Galesville in 1859. Not many of these remain, but among those who are still here are some of the first officers.

The first fair at Galesville was held on the ground that is now known as Market square in the heart of the business section of the town. There wasn't much of a show, but there was a lively interest on the part of the pioneers, most of whom had recently arrived from the eastern states, where gatherings of the kind were common among the country folks. Galesville wasn't much of a town in 1859, and the only farms were little more than clearings in the wilderness as compared with the prosperous agricultural district of today. There were not many preliminaries before the first fair. A call for a citizens' meeting was made, addressed to all the people of the county. Galesville was at that time the county seat and the meeting was held in the old court house, which building is still standing within a stone's throw of the scene of the initial fair. The meeting for the purpose of organizing an agricultural society was held on the first day of October, 1859. A constitution and by-laws were drafted and adopted and officers elected. Dates for the first fair were set for Oct. 21 and 22, three weeks later. The first officers were Geo. H. Smith, president; Alex A. Arnold, John B. Dunning and Isaac Noyes, vice presidents; G. Y. Freeman, secretary; Isaac Clark, treasurer. Of these Capt. Arnold and G. Y. Freeman alone survive and reside in Galesville.

According to a well-preserved record book the first fair was a great success. "In every department there was a goodly and worthy competition." A feature of the fair was an address by Prof. Samuel Fallows, now the noted Bishop Fallows, who was at that early date at the head of Galesville university, now Gale college. On the last day of the fair a vote was taken as to whether or not orders should be drawn on the treasury for premiums awarded. By a unanimous vote the members generously donated the amounts of their premiums to the new society.

The present fair management hopes to be able to reproduce the first fair at the next annual show by having a ground space within the race track fitted up for this purpose. The work of arranging this will be left to old timers who still have a mental picture of the fair of 1859.

Vacant House Burns.
The burning of a vacant house on the farm of Mrs. Cora Hammond just at the edge of the city caused considerable alarm Monday evening. The burning building was beyond the reach of the water system, but the local fire department responded with buckets. Had the wind been from the opposite direction other buildings would have been in danger. How the fire started is still a mystery.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. P. Renvig died Saturday. The funeral was held Tuesday.

Ruth, the three year old daughter of Mrs. Robert Christanson, died on Saturday at Eltrick, after an illness of but a few hours. During the past few weeks there has been much sickness and a number of deaths among children in that vicinity. At first it was believed that the trouble was due to ptomaine poisoning, but it is now feared that infantile paralysis, the dread disease of the eastern states, has made its appearance in the community.

A meeting of the Galesville Business Men's association will discuss the advisability of establishing a ferry across Black river to accommodate farmers from La Crosse county during the time that the Hunter bridge will be closed to travel. The work on the bridge will occupy about two months.

The marriage of Miss Laura Gilbertson to Ingvald Scarseth is announced to take place Oct. 17. The bride to be is a former teacher in Gale college. Mr. Scarseth is a son of A. J. Scarseth, a prominent Galesville business man.

The Galesville orchestra will give a dance in the opera house Tuesday evening.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. are raising funds for the improvement of the Galesville cemetery. A large sum of money was raised by subscription, and on Thursday evening a public supper will be given in Woodman hall, from which entertainment the amount will be increased.

Rev. N. F. Chapman preached his farewell sermon Sunday in the Presbyterian church. He leaves this week for his new charge at Neillsville.

GAINED TWENTY POUNDS, PLEURISY CURED.

Mr. I. Brown, of 614 Bingham Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa., Who Suffered from a Severe Case of Pleurisy, Which Left his Lung in a Weak Condition, Was Completely Cured and Restored to Health by the World's Greatest Medicine.

In a recent interview Mr. Brown said: "I deem it my duty to state what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done for me. In the fall of 1905 I contracted a severe cold which I neglected until it developed into pleurisy in my right side. I did considerable doctoring for it, and I seemed to get all right. I returned to work, but again immediately contracted another severe cold, which found me in a weakened condition. I tried many different kinds of medicines, which did not seem to help me; I was very weak and run down, and I decided what I needed was a tonic stimulant to build me up, so I made up my mind to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I am very thankful that I did, it has put new life in me, it took out the pleurisy and healed my left lung, which was left in a very weak condition, and I feel as strong and hardy as it is possible for any man to feel. I have a good appetite and have gained twenty pounds in weight; and, while I am a temperance advocate and do not believe in drinking intoxicating beverages, whenever I feel the need of a tonic and stimulant I do not hesitate to take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I can heartily recommend it to any one who is run down and is troubled with colds or pleurisy."

Unsolicited testimonials like the above come from thousands of men and women who have been cured and restored to health by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ of the seed and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a pale malt, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances renders it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

It is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic, builds up the nerve tissues, tones up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces, it makes digestion perfect, and enables you to get from the food you eat the nourishment it contains. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

Caution.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey, and is sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Price $1.00. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Illustrated medical booklet and doctor's advice free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. SCALY ERUPTIONS COVERED HIS BODY

Itched Constantly—Scratched Until Blood Flowed—Suffered 10 Years—Doctors and Medicines Were Fruitless—Tries Cuticura and Is Completely Cured

BY THREE BOXES OF CUTICURA OINTMENT

"When I was about nine years old small sores appeared on each of my lower limbs. I scratched them with a brass pin and shortly afterwards both of those limbs became so sore that I could scarcely walk. When I had been suffering for about a month the sores began to heal, but small scaly eruptions appeared where the sores had been. From that time onward I was troubled by such severe itching that, until I became accustomed to it, I would scratch the sores until the blood began to flow. This would stop the itching for a few days; but scaly places would appear again and the itching would accompany them. After I suffered about ten years I made a renewed effort to effect a cure. The eruptions by this time had appeared on every part of my body except my face and hands. The best doctor in my native county advised me to use arsenic in small doses and a salve. I then used to bathe the sores in a mixture which gave almost intolerable pain. In addition I used other remedies, such as iodine, sulphur, zinc salve, and a salve. Ointment, and in fact I was continually giving some remedy a fair trial, never using less than one or two boxes of bottles. All this was fruitless. Finally my hair began to fall out and I was rapidly becoming bald. I used Cuticura Ointment on every part of my body except my face and hands. A few months after, having used almost everything else, I thought I would try Cuticura Ointment, having previously used Cuticura Soap and being pleased with it. After using three boxes I was completely cured, and my hair was restored after fourteen years of suffering and an expenditure of at least $50 to $60 in vainly endeavoring to find a cure. I shall be glad to write to any one who may be interested in my cure. B. Hiram Mattingly, Vermillion, S. Dak., Aug. 18, 1906."

Vice-President Bryant Makes Annual Report Suggesting Permanent Committee.

The annual meeting of the La Crosse Manufacturers & Jobbers union was held last evening and the following directors were elected for the ensuing year: Henry Gund, H. J. Hirschheimer, John C. Burns, J. W. Bryant and L. C. Colman. President J. W. Bryant submitted his annual report, showing the work that had been done during the year and also made suggestions regarding the future work of the organization. He was instructed to appoint a committee to formulate a plan by which a movement may be started increasing the purchase of home made goods in La Crosse.

Bryant's Address.
The address of Vice-President J. W. Bryant, who has been acting president of the Union for the past year, was read and contained many interesting and important suggestions to the members.

The address follows:
"Gentlemen:
"Some men are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them, and since the last annual meeting I am in the latter class, having been during that period officially your vice-president, but by the slipping of a cog in your machinery, compelled to act as president.

It has been the custom of your President at each annual meeting, to present a resume of the operations of the closing year, and I do not wish to break the useful custom.

"The earlier part of the year was devoted to visiting factories and after having visited the J. B. Funke Co.'s establishment, the La Crosse Boot & Shoe factory and the brewery of the John Gund Brewing Co., that feature was closed for the season, and I should like to hear from the visiting committee an opinion of its merits.

"Later, in co-operation with the Board of Trade, excursions were organized to Rushford, Spring Grove, Preston, Minn., and Lansing, Iowa, which were each largely attended and were not only enjoyed by those participating, but also contributed to create good feelings and extend trade relations with these localities.

"The value of these excursions cannot be overestimated and the practical results of those made during this season demonstrated their value.

"During the week of the Interstate fair, Rushford reciprocated by sending an excursion of from five to six hundred, Spring Grove sent over two hundred, Preston sent two special trains and Lansing sent a numerous delegation.

"By these excursions, manufacturers, jobbers and retail merchants are brought into personal contact with those who handle or consume their goods, and the incoming excursionists are afforded an opportunity at the fair grounds and buildings to become acquainted with goods made and merchandise sold in La Crosse, and incidentally, purchase freely.

"The M. & J. Union should have a standing committee appointed each year to plan and handle excursions only, and I would suggest that such a committee be appointed.

"The real work of the year, however, commenced with the legislative session at Madison at which were presented bills without number, many of which if passed, would have been inimical to the interests of the manufacturers, jobbers and retail merchants.

"Your directors met in February to consider these bills, and later called a special meeting of the members, at which the Hon. T. H. Miller, our assemblyman, was present and opinions were freely exchanged upon the merits and demerits of the bills.

"The meeting received much useful information from Mr. Miller and he became acquainted with the views of the various interests represented at the meeting.

"Some of the bills presented during the session were so rabidly socialistic that they did not reach the house for vote, and of those which did so, twenty-five were indefinitely postponed and three were passed.

"Some of the bills, while proper in principle, were so loaded with details that every manufacturer or merchant (wholesale or retail) would keep them instructed in the requirements of the law.

"We have reason, however, to congratulate ourselves on the result, and can say with truth, 'It might have been worse.'

"Since the closing of the session, the minimum freight rate on small packages demonstrated the necessity of our continual watchfulness. A special meeting was called to take action, and the secretary instructed to present a protest against the increase to the state railroad commission, and to correspond with similar bodies throughout the state and with the several railroads upon the subject.

"A committee consisting of A. Hirschheimer and C. Kurtenacker, went to Madison and appeared before the state railroad commission in support of our protest.

"There has been no meeting since

GULLICKSON STILL AFTER VIOLATORS

SECOND WARRANT FOR "DUKE OF MINDORO."

TWO OTHERS TO BE ARRESTED

Mindoro Town Official Presses Suits Charging the Sale of Liquor Since Town Went "Dry"

A second campaign to secure the enforcement of the no license law in the town of Farmington, particularly in Mindoro, Wis., has been started by Peter Gullickson, chairman of the in a wider scope than the first from the very inception. Chairman Gullickson securing warrants for the arrest of three alleged violators.

A. C. Hanson, "The Duke of Mindoro," once assemblyman from the leader in western Wisconsin politics, must answer a charge of running a blind pig for the second time. He was acquitted of the charge last Wednesday by a jury in county court after a trial of an entire day. George C. Pfaff and Matt Elange also must answer charges of running a blind pig, warrants being secured for the arrest of the alleged violators of the law on Aug. 31.

At the April election in the town of Farmington the "dry" vote won, and dramshops were ordered to close. The first information against Hanson charged a violation of the law on Aug. 10. He was acquitted.

Immediately after the acquittal Gullickson secured a second warrant for the arrest of Hanson charging a violation on Aug. 26. District Attorney Bosshar, at the conclusion of the trial, announced that Hanson would be arrested again. He held up the warrant until yesterday, when it was delivered to Sheriff Burns for service.

Hanson maintained at the previous trial that he sold "Beeros" a two per cent alcoholic drink, and that it is not intoxicating. This probably will be the second defense. Attorney W. F. Wolfe, counsel for Hanson, declares the case will be pushed to an immediate trial.

The warrants against Pfaff and Elange charged violations on Aug. 31. The warrants are in the hands of the sheriff, and will be served shortly.

CROWD SHUDDERS TO SEES BABY CARRIAGE UPON COWCATCHER

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Women covered their eyes and struggled hard to keep from swooning, even strong men turned away with blanched faces as the 6 o'clock train rushed into the Chicago & Northwestern railroad station yesterday afternoon at Evans-ton.

On the cowcatcher was torn and mangled clothing. White skirts and a shirtwaist, mixed with the oil of the pounding driving rod.

But that was not the worst of it. High up on the front of the locomotive, jammed between the flagstaffs and the big headlight, was a baby carriage. It was empty. Only a few shreds of linen decorated its caved-in sides.

The engineer got down, pulled the pieces of clothing and the baby carriage away from the engine, climbed back to his throttle and was off.

Several men jumped from the train as if they intended to attack him. Then the news reached the station that Mary and Elizabeth Hayes, 6 and 10 years old respectively, 1715 Emerson street, had become frightened at the sight of the engine dashing down upon them, six blocks from the station, and had left the baby carriage, filled with laundry, on the track.

The crowd breathed a sigh of relief.

Their return and their report will be presented this evening.

"Thanking you for your cordial support in my dual capacity, and fully impressed with the value and even necessity of your organization, I remain, Respectfully,

"J. W. BRYANT,
"Vice-President."

MAHONEY RETURNS FROM BALL MEETING

SAYS THE FANS MUST SUPPORT TEAMS BETTER

ATTENDANCE MUST BE 25,000

League Directors Decide If Attendance is not up to this Figure City Must Quit League

Vice President Paul W. Mahoney of the local baseball club has returned from Milwaukee where he attended the annual meeting of the Wisconsin baseball association.

Mr. Mahoney says that the Freeport representatives were very gentlemanly at the meeting and he did not see any prejudice shown by them against the Wisconsin clubs in the least. He says that the talk of prejudice of the Freeport club against La Crosse, the previous champions, or other Wisconsin clubs, was absurd.

There was but one vote against President Moll for president. A motion was made for Pete Hustin of Fond du Lac for president, and received a second, but when a call came for count only one vote was cast.

Salaries were fixed at $1,200.

Clubs to be "Dropped."
A resolution was also passed by the meeting that all clubs which do not have an attendance of 25,000 next season will be dropped from the circuit if some other city can be secured to take their place. Interest must be shown and the baseball association must succeed financially as well as satisfying the fans, who have been getting practically class "A" ball.

"If the fans want class 'A' ball they will have to support the teams by attending or it will be impossible for us to give it to them," said Mr. Mahoney.

"We don't regret giving them good ball," said Mr. Mahoney, "but we cannot afford it unless they lend their support."

President John A. Elliott will remain in Milwaukee for a few days.

RATTLESNAKES ARE PRESIDENT'S GAME

VICKSBURG, Miss., Oct. 9.—President Roosevelt's first prey is a pair of rattlesnakes. Ben Lilly skinned them and they will be trophies of the hunt. So far the hunting has been lively. Monday the party jumped two bears and two cats. Will Coon, a negro, killed a fine buck, and another was jumped yesterday.

THIRTY DAYS FOR STEALING COAT

Robert Harrington pleaded guilty today before Judge Brindley to stealing a coat, valued at $3, from M. Evans, Bangor, Wis. He was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. The theft occurred yesterday.

EUTERPEAN TO BEGIN LESSONS AGAIN

The Euterpean society, formed in La Crosse last winter, to study art, in its three branches, music literature and painting, will hold the first meeting of the year on Friday, Oct. 18, the place of meeting having not been decided by the Rev. Henry Faville, grand master of the society.

On the day of the first meeting, Mrs. E. A. Gatterdam, Miss Bertha Shuman and Mrs. H. A. Worthington will have charge of the program. Miss Lena Gelatt is master of reports. She succeeds Miss Barbara Russell, former instructor of music in the La Crosse public schools.

The general text for the first meeting is nature, the poetry, music and art referring to the general subject in some form.

Following is the program of the society for the year. The course consists of nine lessons:

Oct. 18—Nature, music, Mrs. E. A. Gatterdam; nature, poetry, Miss Bertha C. Shuman; nature, painting, Mrs. H. A. Worthington.

Nov. 1—Wagner, Ida Shuman; Shakespeare, Charles H. Schweizer; Rubens, Mrs. F. E. Davis.

Nov. 15—Rossini, Mrs. E. J. Johnson; Whittier, the Rev. Henry Faville; Correggio, Genevieve Baldwin.

Nov. 29—Weber, Julia Hoffman; Tennyson, Anna Doherty; Burne Jones, Mrs. Elsie G. Scott.

Dec. 13—Schubert, Lena Gelatt; Wordsworth, Helen Dorset; Corot, Helen M. Burton.

Dec. 27—Nature, music, Alice Bunting; nature, poetry, Mrs. F. G. Tiffany; nature, painting, Lina M. Johns.

Jan. 10—Liszt, Barbara Beck; Lowell, the Rev. J. W. Irish; Murillo, Mrs. E. Edward Evans.

Jan. 24—Mendelssohn, Ada Clark; Holmes, Prof. N. S. Donaldson; Reynolds, Sophia Berger.

Bach, Harry Packman; Milton, Thomas J. Larkin; Leonardo, the Rev. J. W. Hoag.

The officers of the society are: Grand master—The Rev. Henry Faville.

Vice grand master—The Rev. J. W. Hoag.

Master of treasury—F. G. Tiffany.

Master of reports—Miss Lena Gelatt.

Master of art department—Miss Sarah H. MacNair.

Chairman executive committee—E. G. Boynton.

"The society will hold its first meeting on Friday, Oct. 18," said the Rev. Faville today. "The place has not been chosen."

"Meetings will be held every two weeks until the course is exhausted. Eighteen subjects were furnished us last winter, and we studied nine. The remainder will be given this winter."

LADIES ROLL FIRST GAME

The first game was played in the Ladies' Bowling league this morning. The league is composed of six ladies and two teams are picked each day of rolling, which has been designated for Wednesday. Mrs. Lester Keene rolled the high score this morning, succeeding in getting 149, and Mrs. Frank Williams was second with 138. The low score of the morning was 87, and the showing made by the ladies is considered exceptionally good. After a few weeks' practice they intend to issue a challenge to any five ladies in the city to play a championship series.

DAHL HERE TO OPEN NEW BANK

Ex-Congressman Herman B. Dahle of Mount Horeb, near Whitehall, Wis., is in the city to make arrangements for the opening of his new bank in the Lienlokken building on South Fourth street. His business assistant, Mr. Lingard, is accompanying him.

Mr. Dahle expects to have the bank in full operation by the end of the month.

BARBER'S CASE IS CONTINUED

The case against John Kreutz, 221 South Third street, charged with practicing barbering without a license, was continued until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. E. C. Higbee attorney for Kreutz, is absent from the city, being called to Sparta, Wis. This caused the continuance.

COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING FRIDAY

The regular meeting of the common council will take place Friday evening.

No questions of especial importance will come before the board.

Mr. I. and Edward Schilling arrived home from their four months' European trip. They spent some time at Karlsbad, Ueibaden, Ostend and other sea side resorts and report an enjoyable tour.

BUYS PROPERTY

John Blajasky, one of the assistants at the city scales has bought the property at 1535 Denton street from C. A. Olberg for a consideration of $1,300. Mr. Blajasky intends to erect a home on the property in a short time.

A poor man believes there is no happiness that can be purchased with money.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

The first symptom of Contagious Blood Poison is usually a little sore or ulcer which does not always excite suspicion because of its insignificance; but as the poison becomes more firmly rooted in the blood, the mouth and throat ulcerate, copper-colored spots appear, a rash breaks out on the body, the hair begins to come out, glands in the neck and groins swell, and often ulcerating sores form on the limbs, hands or face. But this is not all: if the poison is allowed to remain it works down and attacks the bones, causing necrosis or decay, and makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. It will not do to tamper with a disease so powerful as Contagious Blood Poison, for every day the virus remains in the blood the trouble is progressing toward a more dangerous stage, and may in the end get beyond the reach of any treatment. There is but one certain, reliable cure for Contagious Blood Poison, and that is S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers. This remedy attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the blood and forcing out every particle of the poison. It makes the blood pure and rich, strengthens the different parts of the body, tones up the system and cures this humiliating and destructive disorder permanently. The improvement commences as soon as the patient gets under the influence of S. S. S. and continues until every vestige of the poison is driven from the blood, and the sufferer completely restored to health. S. S. S. is not an experiment, it is a success and has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison in every stage, and being entirely free from minerals, is a safe as well as certain treatment. If you are suffering with this debasing disease get the poison out of your blood with S. S. S. before it does further damage. Special home treatment book on the disease and medical advice sent free to all who write.

STRANGE MATRIMONIAL TANGLE IN MILWAUKEE

WOMAN MAY BE DEPORTED

Will Not Live With Husband Until Remarried to Him—Separated
Since His Reaching U. S.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 9.—
Left in German Poland when her husband came to this country seventeen years ago, divorced without her knowledge, succeeded by a woman who has since divorced the man, coming to this country at the request and the expense of the man whom she still believed to be her husband, and finding out the truth from the guests at a big celebration given in honor of the reunion, these are the salient points in the unusual matrimonial experiences of Mrs. Lorenz Pieprzyk. Supplemented by the fact that she refuses to live with her former husband without being remarried to him and that he has shown a disinclination for any further exchange of marriage vows, it is a history which is likely to bring Mrs.
Pieprzyk and her 20 year old niece,
Catherine Fiedler, to the attention of the United States immigration authorities.

Serves Notice on Pieprzyk.

Unless Mr. Pieprzyk, who is a carpenter contractor, reconsiders his determination not to marry again or decides to meet the written demand of the county poor department that he provide for the return of his former wife and her niece to the old country, the case will be referred to the United States bureau of immigration. Whether it will be decided to deport the woman or to proceed against the man on the charge of bringing them into this country under false pretenses, remains to be seen. Pieprzyk is 40 years of age and his former wife is two years younger.

Mrs. Pieprzyk and her niece arrived in New York Sept. 11, sailing from Antwerp on the steamer Zealand with tickets sent them by the supposed husband and uncle, according to the story which the women told at the office of the county poor department yesterday. Sunday a big celebration was given at the Forest avenue home, all the neighbors and friends being invited to the festivities.

GAMBLERS RAIDED; CAUGHT AT GAME

LANCASTER, Wis., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—A spectacular raid at the hour of midnight by Sheriff Bud-worth, Deputy Ellwell and Under-sheriff Callis, resulted in the capture of twenty-three men in the office of W. E. Shimmin, over the Ziegler hardware store, where a roulette wheel and a poker game were in operation. W. E. Shimmin was bound over to the circuit court under $500 bail on the charge of keeping a gambling house; sixteen of the men pleaded guilty, four were found not guilty, and two were not held.
Sheriff Budworth has received several offers to go on the stage since the affray.

ELKHORN, Wis., Oct. 9.—(Spe-

Crane? What fate has befallen the Elkhorn milliner who went west and disappeared on Aug. 30, 1907?
E. J. Crane of Adams, Walworth county, an uncle of the girl, has been asked to help in the search.
She made her home with him some years ago, and the disappearance has nearly broken his heart. It appears that the girl closed out her millinery store at Huron, S. D., and took up a claim west of the Missouri river.
She made frequent trips to the home of her parents in Minnesota, but on the last trip she failed to turn up.
There is another man broken-hearted over the disappearance. He is a physician in St. Peter, Minn., and was to have been married to Miss Crane early this fall.

KILLED BY ACCIDENT

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 9.—Paul
Ramer, aged 16 years, son of Casper Ramer, a farmer of Verona, was accidentally shot and killed by a gun in his own hands. The boy was dragging the gun behind him, butt on the ground, and the muzzle of it in his hands, when the bushes exploded the gun, the bullet entering the back of the neck.

English Lutheran church in this city yesterday with an attendance of more than a hundred delegates from all parts of the state. The Rev. H.
K. Gebhart of Plattville, president of the Wisconsin organization, presided at the opening session, and the principal address was delivered by the Rev. W. K. Frick, D. D., pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, in

CONFER ON TAXES

STATE COMMISSION IS NOW AT SPARTA
Meets Special Appraisers
for Monroe County

SPARTA, Wis., Oct. 9.—Tax commissioner Nils P. Haugen of Madison met in conference yesterday with
G. W. Ghoea of Waupaca, J. O. Mc-Nutt of Jackson, E. Nordman of Langlade, Ole Gauper of Vernon, E.
Van Patten of Rock and A. J. Anderson of Richland, who were recently appointed by the state tax commission to make an investigation of the personal property valuation of Monroe county, to be used by the tax commission for the readjustment of the 1906 equalization of taxes made by the county board from which the city of Sparta appealed.

The tax commission had previously compiled the figures as to real estate values. Upon the conclusion of the work by the gentlemen now engaged on personal property they will make their findings as to the total value of taxable property of the several districts.

INCENDIARY AT BELOIT STILL BUSY

BELOIT, Wis., Oct. 9.—Two barns in the western part of the city were burned by incendiaries following a false alarm from a fire box several blocks from the scene of the fire.
The barns were on the premises of Fred Anderson and Ernest Mead. At the meeting of the common council the mayor was authorized to offer a reward of $100 for the arrest of the incendiaries. This is the eighth incendiary fire within five weeks.

DEMENTED, HE IS LOST TO THE WORLD

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Oct. 9.
—(Special.)—Mrs. Frank Dolan has not given up her search for John Schwartz, a brother, who was employed in a creamery near Madison, which was destroyed by fire. It is thought that the fire so pruned on Schwartz's mind that he became demented and wandered away. Another theory is that he met with foul play, as he had drawn his entire salary on leaving. This amounted to over $100.

CHINK HAS $2,500;
IS FIXED FOR LIFE

STANLEY, Wis., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Yep Lee, the friend of Stanley's old and young people, has departed for San Francisco, to go back to the old home with the avowed purpose of spending the $2,500 he saved while in Stanley, on a wife, and then living in comfort all his life. Yep confided in Stanley friends that he expected to pay all of $200 for the girl.

TRAINS COLLIDE AND TRAFFIC IS CLOSED

MANITOWOC, Wis., Oct. 9.—A head-on collision between the through freight and gravel train in the yards of the Chicago & North-Western road, derailed several cars, demolished one of the engines and blocked all traffic over the lines from Green Bay south for five hours. Engineer Kit-tell of Green Bay, of the gravel freight, was caught and badly bruised.

SHOOTS FORMER WIFE
SHAWANO, Wis., Oct. 9.—Last night at about 6:30 o'clock William

Burr shot his divorced wife, Elizabeth Burr, at Gresham, Shawano county, according to a warrant on which Burr was arrested. The ball entered her breast and she is still living, but in a very critical condition. Burr and his wife were divorced only a short time ago and the motive alleged for the crime was jealousy.

NO FREE TELEPHONES

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Oct. 9.
—The telephones at the Bloomer and New Auburn depots near here have been taken out by the Bloomer Telephone company by the order of the state railroad commission. It has been the custom for telephone companies to put telephones in depots for the accommodation of the public, but the railroad commission holds that such procedure is a discrimination in favor of the railroads and against the person who has to pay telephone rental.

DESTROY LANDMARK

GREEN BAY, Wis., Oct. 9.—The Tank cottage, the oldest frame building in Wisconsin, located on the west shore of the Fox river in this city, is to be torn down or removed from its present site. Efforts to preserve the cottage are to be made by the South Side Improvement association and the public grounds committee of the city council.

STATE IN BRIEF

JANESVILLE, Wis.—The jury in the case of the state against Florence Dugan, charged with having shot with intent to kill George Schumaker, April 18 last, was filed Tuesday and the taking of testimony will begin today.

JANESVILLE, Wis.—Thomas C.
Jacks of Titus, Tenn., a wealthy mine owner, and H. H. Zigler of Columbus, both interested in a possible interurban road between Janesville and Madison, were nearly killed last evening when an automobile they were riding in ran away down a hill. Mr. Zigler and Mr. Jacks jumped from the rear seat of the machine, receiving slight bruises, just as the machine crashed into a fence.

APPLETON, Wis.—The tenth annual meeting of the Fox River Valley

Oct. 15 and 16.

RACINE, Wis.—Directors of the new Racine City bank held a meeting Tuesday and elected William G.
Gittings, president, and H. N. Bacon of Oshkosh, cashier. The bank is stocked for $50,000, of which it is said that $20,000 is owned by Oshkosh capitalists. Efforts will be made to open the bank on Dec. 1
at Racine Junction.

RACINE, Wis.—Nicholas D. Fratt, no doubt the oldest living bank director and president in the state, will today celebrate the sixty-fourth anniversary of his landing in Racine.
Few men are better known or who have been more prominently before the public eye in the great state than
Mr. Fratt.

KENOSHA, Wis.—William C.
Dowse of this county and Ernest Dowse of Chicago are contesting the will of their father, the late James C. Dowse, which was filed for probate in the county court here Tuesday. By the terms of the will the greater part of the estate, which consists of valuable land in the town of Pleasant Prairie, and personal property, was left to Byron C. Dowse, a brother of the contestants.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis.—Harry Larson of this city was fatally injured
Tuesday by being struck on the head by the crane of a pile driver.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis.—Numerous resignations of police officers have occurred on account of the new order sent out a short time ago that all officers must wear a regulation overcoat.

COURT MARTIAL AWAITS TROOPERS

WEST SALEM FRACAS WILL BE THE OBJECT LESSON

DESERTERS ARE ON THE LIST

Post Adjutant Gives Out Assurance That Battery Members Will Be Punished for Their Behavior

Members of Battery C, Third field artillery of the United States army, who engaged in a general all around fight at West Salem last Friday night, in which City Marshal Rhodes was the chief attraction, will be court-martialed on arrival at Fort Snelling. The post adjutant has given out this information, although he has not received notice of the fight officially.

Newspaper accounts of the mix-up have reached Fort Snelling, and the adjutant informed Twin City newspapermen that the culprits would be dealt with according to army law on return to the post.

The battery is due at home on Oct. 13, and reports of the affair may reach the adjutant by that time. If not, it is expected Captain W. S. Overton, in charge of the troop, will make a verbal report of the fight and the court-martial held at once.

Coupled with the fracas, four members of the troop deserted here, adding to the gravity of the previous offense. Three of the deserters have been recaptured and will be court-martialed when they reach home. The fourth man is at large.

The desertions and assault upon the West Salem citizens will be investigated thoroughly and punishment meted out as the men deserve.

THOUGHT MARSHAL WOULD LYNCH

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., Oct. 8.—Anton Zolwitz, who has been in America only a few weeks, has had a terrifying experience in this city, and Russia with its terrorist bombs and Cossack knouts appeared for a brief space of time that seemed hours of agony, much more peaceable and free than this land of liberty.

The town marshal was the leader of a mob bent on lynching him, Anton thought, when the peace officer approached him to place him under arrest for disturbing the peace by frightening some little girls. The man from darkest Russia could not understand the language that the marshal addressed to him. Neither could the marshal nor his assistants interpret the appeals that Zolwitz made to them.

His assailants were not in uniform; therefore could not be policemen, Anton reasoned. He had heard of American lynchings. In Russia no fine distinction regarding crime or guilt were made at executions even by the officials. Why should they be considered here by a mere mob?

Anton struggled against capture. He proved to be a powerful man and, believing his assailants were bent upon lynching him, he fought like a beast at bay. Not until five men had come to the marshal's aid was he overpowered, and even then a dray was necessary in order to carry him to jail.

When he was able to explain, through an interpreter, that he had believed he was the victim of a lynching party, he won the sympathy of the justice, who fined him only for drunkenness. He quickly quit the town.

ESCH RETURNS FROM FROM SUPERIOR

Representative John J. Esch returned yesterday from Superior, Wis., and Eau Claire, Wis. At the former place he delivered an address at the German day exercises, in commemoration of the landing of the Germans in the United States at Germantown, Pa., over 200 years ago. On return Mr. Esch stopped at Eau Claire to see friends.

"The exercises at Superior were held in the Grand opera house and about 1,000 people attended," said Mr. Esch today. "The day was passed off in accordance with the program and a successful event was held."

Louis G. Bomrich, Milwaukee, candidate for governor on the democratic ticket five years ago, also was a speaker at Superior.

Wise is the man who expects the unexpected to happen and is prepared for it.

JAP CRUELITIES IN KOREA SHOCKING

HONG KONG, Oct. 8.—Shocking stories are leaking out concerning the cruelties the Japanese are perpetrating in Korea in an effort to restore peace.

The victims of the Japanese in retaliation for the attacks by rebellious Koreans, number between ten and twenty thousand. Many of these were killed in open fights and an enormous number were massacred.

Many a golden opportunity has been wrecked for want of genius to throw the switch.

GOT $500,000 TO BLOCK SUBWAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—John B. McDonald, who built the subway, was the star witness before the public service commission, testifying that Thomas F. Ryan and his associates in the Interborough-Metropolitan merger had paid him $250,000 to abrogate a contract he held with them to build more subways; that Mr. Ryan and his friends had further smothered his ruffled feelings by giving him a five-year contract by which he was to get $50,000 a year for such subway work as the "Inter-Met" might plan.

In all Mr. McDonald was given $500,000 to keep quiet.

McDonald's testimony showed that when he disagreed with August Belmont over the present subway he allied himself with the Metropolitan Securities interests to obtain subway free exchange of transfers with the with the surface railway system of Manhattan.

Men on the stage are so noble and brave, and speak so distinctly in saying they will never do anything dishonorable, that ordinary mortals are ashamed to go to the theater.

HURRY WORK ON PHILIPPINE FORTS

MANILA, Oct. 9.—Engineers and marines have made remarkable progress in rushing the work on the fortifications, despite heavy rains and poor transportation facilities. Twenty-four guns have been installed on Grande island, at the entrance of Subic bay, including ten of 6.5 inch caliber, best navy gun, which are mounted on the heights.

RESIGNS PASTORATE; ASKS FORGIVENESS

VAN BROCKLIN, Ill., Oct. 9.—One week ago, the Rev. Charles B. Allen, pastor of the Methodist church here, announced his conversion to the Baptist church, and intention to enter the Baptist ministry. He was granted a license to preach, but has returned to his Methodist flock and asked forgiveness, and that he be restored to his pulpit. The doctrine of baptism caused the Rev. Allen's action.

Love may be blind, but sooner or later it bumps into an eye-opener.

If it be true that a pretty girl attracts only silly men, sensible men are as scarce as hen's teeth.

INDIANS MUST NOT GET DRUNK

Disbursing Agent Post at Black River Falls, Wis., says he will pay out no money to intoxicated Indians, and unless the local authorities exert all due efforts to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors to them the payment will be suspended. As there always has been from $12,000 to $14,000 paid there at these payments it is a matter that cannot be overlooked by the merchants, and they will use all the means in their power to prevent the sale of liquors.

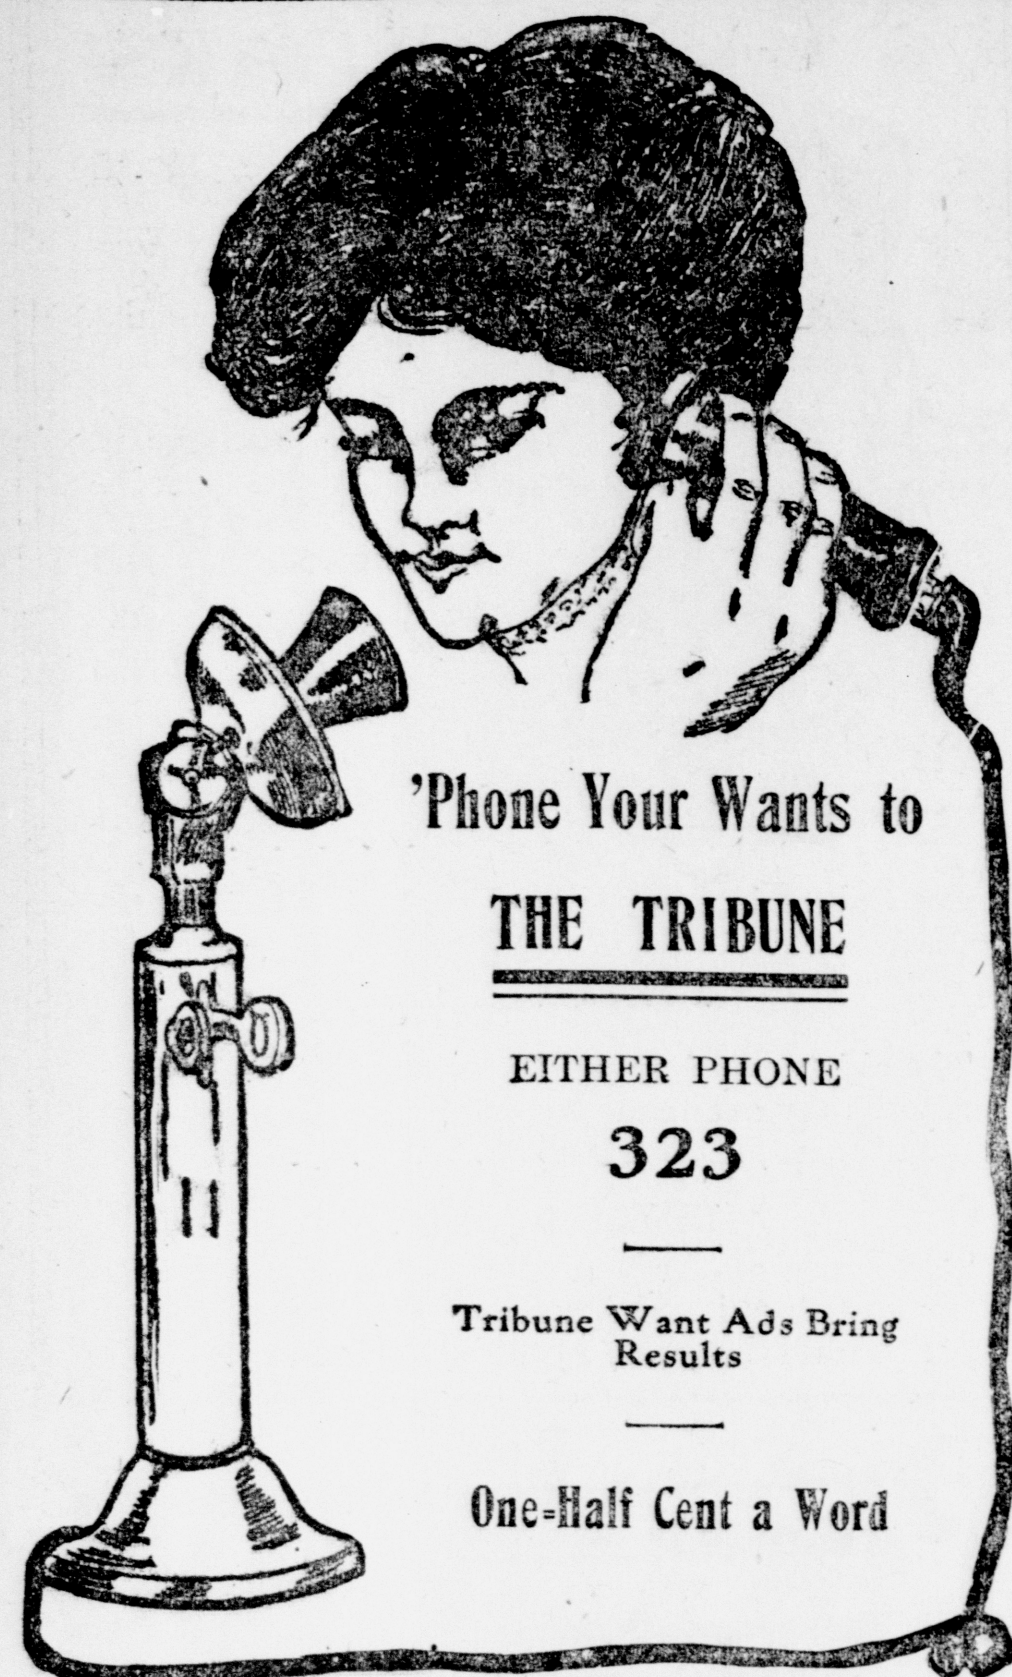

The sale is optional with the saloon men, as according to federal supreme court rulings they have the same right to sell to an Indian that they have to sell to a white man, and as the government has withdrawn its protection from the Indians as "wards of the government" the ruling by the agent seems to be rather arbitrary, but it will be rigidly enforced if possible.

Many of the payments here have been marked by drunken debauches.

NORFOLK, Oct. 9.—The battleship Kentucky went aground today off Lambert's Point a short distance above North Elizabeth river. The ship was running at moderate speed when she ran her nose into the mud firmly and was wedged on a bar.

Tugs are pulling at her.

Dickens in Evening Dress

When Charles Dickens was to make his first appearance in Boston before an American audience as a reader of an immense crowd awaited him. The enthusiasm of the people for the most popular novelist then living had risen to fever heat. One of the most ardent of his admirers afterward told this little incident of the evening: "With a few gentlemen who wished to welcome and show him attention I was in the little room at the back of the platform when Dickens entered. He was a rather stout man, with a somewhat red face, and I saw, to my surprise, that he was dressed in an exaggerated severity to the extreme fashion. More than this, he wore a bow-tie in each buttonhole and two watches, the chains of which were strung aggressively across his chest. There was a gaudy but taste in his appearance, which his friends regretted, knowing how distasteful it would be to most of his admirers who appreciated his genius and enjoyed his writings. No one, of course, could broach the subject to him, and he appeared that night and every other night of his engagement in the same attire. The universal comment was, 'Why, this is a petit maitre.' How can a man with such tastes be the creator of Tiny Tim and Sam Weller?"

The Peasant and His Son

One day a peasant carried a basket of potatoes to the field and dug holes in the soil and planted them. His young son watched operations for a time and then inquired: "Daddy, why do you put those taters in the ground?" "By so doing each one will bring me back ten, my son," replied the father.

The boy went away, and when his father came up to dinner he found him digging in the yard and asked: "Sonny, what are you seeking?" "Why, daddy, I have planted the clock, two umbrellas, the teapot, your Sunday hat, ma's boots and a tablecloth, and each one will bring me back ten."

"You young idiot, come here and be skelped," shouted the father, and he tanned the boy up and down, crossways and sideways, until he was tired. "Daddy planted taters to get back ten," mused the boy as he sat down under the cow shed to think. "But I planted clocks and hats and boots to get a licking. It must be the difference in the soil."—Pearson's Weekly.

No Chance to Dance

Clara—Coming home from the dance the other night, I met Charlie Spooner in a crowded car, and he didn't offer to give me a seat. Maud—Perhaps he knew you had been sitting down all the evening.—Life.

A gentleman was introduced at a reception to a charming lady who, his friend said, was a countess. The next day the two were passing through some city offices, when the young lady in question was discovered with a pile of bills in front of her. "If thought you said she was a countess," remarked the gentleman, "I did, and she is considered one of the quickest countesses in the department."

PICKLING PEARS ON MARKET AT 70 CENTS PER PECK

FARMERS BRING IN POTATOES

There is no change noted in the local market. Pickle pears were first seen on the local markets today and are selling at 70 cents per peck.

Farmers are bringing in their potatoes, which are selling at 50 cents per bushel. While it was reported during the summer that the potato crop would not be as good as usual, many farmers report that they had a splendid crop. There is some rot, however.

What Is Sound?
The natural question, "What is sound?" opens up a world of mystery and of delight to those that like that sort of thing. Anything that sets up vibrations in the air, where there is an ear to receive them, makes a noise. An alarm clock in a vacuum jar may whir or buzz, but it makes no sound. There must be air or there is no sound, and there must be an ear to carry the vibrations to the brain or there is no noise.—Delineator.

BAPTIST SOCIETY
GIVES LECTURES

It became generally known today that the Brotherhood of Andrew and Phillip of the First Baptist church has been at work for some time arranging a short popular lecture course to be given during the next three months.

As soon as the Y. M. C. A. decided not to give a course this year the young men's organization of the Baptist church immediately started correspondence with various lyceums and individuals with the hope of arranging a short attractive program. Three lecturers were decided upon by the speakers to be Hon. H. R. Pattengill of Lansing, Mich. Dr. C. H. Beale of Milwaukee and Dr. W. B. Riley of Minneapolis.

The first lecture is entirely new to a La Crosse audience but he comes doubtfully will meet with a large hearing. Mr. Pattengill is an educator of wide reputation. He was for two terms superintendent of public instruction for the state of Michigan. At present he is editor of "Moderator-Topics," an educational publication of well known standing. During the winter months he spends the greater portion of his time lecturing. He has made addresses upon numerous subjects but his lecture "Nancy Hanks and the 19th Century," is considered his best. In the lecture he deals with the factors of progress in the United States during the past one hundred years.

The second lecturer, Dr. C. H. Beale will be remembered by many as the speaker at the last annual banquet of the men of the Congregational church. That speech was considered by those attending to have been one of the most eloquent and scholarly efforts ever made in the city. Dr. Beale was invited to accept a place on the lecture course largely because of a desire on the part of the men who heard him before to hear him again and also to extend the same privilege to the general public.

Dr. W. B. Riley, the noted pastor of the First Baptist church of Minneapolis, will be the concluding lecturer. He is among the most famous platform men of the northwest. He has spoken in all parts of the United States and always attracts a large hearing. In his religious work he occupies the same position in Minneapolis that Dr. Gustafson does in Chicago. Every Sunday he attracts throngs.

It is expected that these three lectures will give a most pleasing course. All the lectures will be given in the First Baptist church auditorium.

Don't Be Too Thoughtful.
Some people are often accused of being thoughtful, but better that should happen sometimes than always being regarded as too thoughtful. The habit of thinking too deeply on every item has an immense amount of failure at the bottom.

Whether it was best to learn shorthand or a language perplexed one individual for seven months. He could not make up his mind as to which he would derive the most advantage from. He might have learned any one of those accomplishments in the time he took to think about it.

This is the case with many people, and Fortune has an awkward habit of crushing the too thoughtful just as much as the thoughtless.—London Answers.

What Is Sound?
The natural question, "What is sound?" opens up a world of mystery and of delight to those that like that sort of thing. Anything that sets up vibrations in the air, where there is an ear to receive them, makes a noise. An alarm clock in a vacuum jar may whir or buzz, but it makes no sound. There must be air or there is no sound, and there must be an ear to carry the vibrations to the brain or there is no noise.—Delineator.

Solution of An Important Question

When a stove-combining sterling quality and beauty is desired, discriminating buyers wisely choose a

JEWEL BASE BURNER

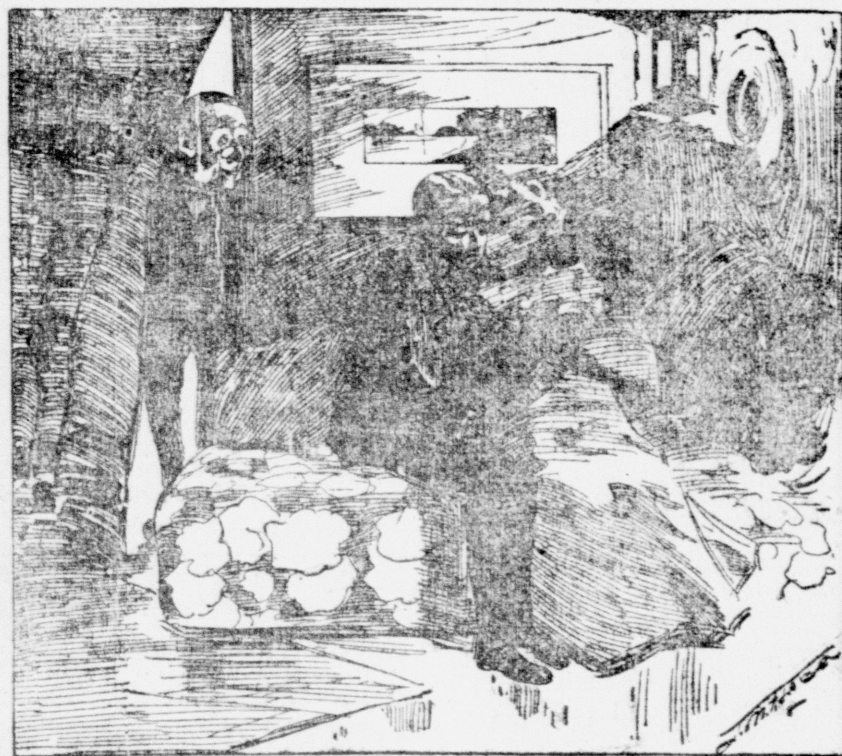

They are built on honor of the best material obtainable.

Note the exceptionally large radiating surface and the double heating flue that takes the cold air from the floor and keeps the air in constant circulation and insures well heated rooms. The Jewel Base Burner produces more heat with less fuel than any other stove manufactured. Prices from $35.00 to $56.00. Why take an unknown make when you can buy a Genuine Jewel for the same money as asked elsewhere for an ordinary stove.

McHUGH AFTER NEW ROAD JOB

A candidate for the position of road supervisor, a job created for every county in the state at the recent session of the legislature has been found for La Crosse county, in James McHugh, retired farmer, 608 South Sixth street.

His politics are democratic and he has had considerable experience in road building while serving at Onalaska in the capacity of town officer. Party lines, however, are not to be strictly adhered to. Several republicans are also expected to appear in the field for the position.

The job will pay from $2.50 to $4 per day and consists of a 3-year term.

The new law states that certain highways in each county shall be designated as county highways and must be kept in repair by the county, and a map of the system of highways is to be given to each county clerk, town clerk, and to the road supervisor.

Some people have a way of saying: "He is a college graduate," which indicates that in their opinion that is all that is necessary to make a man.

GOPHER BAPTISTS TO MEET OCT. 14-18

CONVENTION TO BE HELD AT ALBERT LEA

WINONA AFTER 1908 MEET

Will Extend Invitation and Expects to Land Prize—The Rev. F. J. Drowett to Give Address

ALBERT LEA, Minn., Oct. 9. —The Minnesota State Baptist convention will be held in Albert Lea, beginning on Monday, Oct. 14, and continuing through the following Friday morning. Winona will extend an invitation for the meeting to be held there in 1909, which will be the fiftieth anniversary of the organization. The first state convention was held in Winona in 1859. The outline of the program to be given at Albert Lea follows:

Monday evening—Address of welcome by Rev. F. J. Drowett of Albert Lea; response, by Carey Emerson, president of the convention, and the annual sermon by Rev. W. J. Milliken, Ph. D., of Park Rapids.

Tuesday morning will be given over to a consideration of the summer assembly at Mound, with addresses by G. F. Holt, D. D., of Minneapolis, and Rev. L. B. Crosby of Winona. The welcome to new pastors will be extended. W. B. Riley, D. D., will address the convention on "Hidden Opportunities."

Tuesday afternoon is devoted to the women's session, and Tuesday evening to a consideration of foreign and home missions with addresses by Frank Peterson, D. D., and C. A. Williams, D. D., of Minneapolis.

Wednesday morning the election of officers and reports of committees will be made. Revs. E. H. Rasmussen of Minneapolis and G. H. Gamble of Rochester will address the convention.

Wednesday afternoon and evening are devoted to short addresses on missionary opportunities in Minnesota. L. A. Crandall, D. D., of Minneapolis, delivering the principal address.

A business session will be held Thursday morning and in the afternoon the convention will listen to W. P. McKee, Ph. D., of Mount Carroll, Ill., who will speak on the subject, "Education for Today," and Rev. G. L. White of Winnebago City, on "How Give Men an Opportunity for Training." Reports as to Pillsbury academy, Owatonna, will be received and a session of the Minnesota Baptist Education society held.

Thursday evening is devoted to two addresses: "The Increasing Opportunities," by R. M. West, D. D., St. Paul, and "The Right Use of Energy," by W. P. McKee.

The Sunday school session is held Friday morning, with addresses by Rev. C. B. Elliott, Breckenridge; Rev. R. L. Palmerton, Spring Valley; Rev. J. J. Briggs, Owatonna, and H. T. Musselman of Philadelphia. Prof. G. Soares, D. D., of the University of Chicago addresses the session on "Elemental Ideas in Teachers' Training."

Friday afternoon is devoted to general business and the evening to B. Y. P. U. work, with addresses by Rev. W. E. Woodruff of Minneapolis and Prof. Soares.

Thursday, at 5:30 p. m., under the auspices of the Men's association of the Baptist church at Albert Lea, a laymen's banquet will be held with toasts by prominent Baptist laymen of the state.

Entertainment will be provided for delegates by the entertaining church. The president of the convention is Carey Emerson and the secretary is Rev. E. R. Pope, both of Minneapolis.

LABORERS JUMP JOBS; ARRESTED

HUNDREDS ARE ROUNDED UP—MUST WORK

SENTENCE EQUALS CONTRACT

Fares Paid From East, They Leave Companies in Hole—Seek Higher Wages—Eighteen Hundred

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9.—Marsh Jackson, formerly sheriff at Waltham, N. D., now superintendent of the Winnipeg Detective agency, has received instructions to arrest over 1,800 men brought from the east to work for the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad, east of Winnipeg. Already he has secured over 200 of them and these have been sentenced to terms equal to their engagements, sentences to be worked out while under arrest with the contractors, to whom they hired out.

A majority of these men come from eastern Canada, but owing to the scarcity of labor some had fared from various parts of Europe but this mattered not to them when the farmers offered them higher wages.

Contractors have been seriously handicapped by these desertions during the past two years and drastic methods are necessary. Detective Jackson has a large number of men working on the roundup and states that by the end of the month he will have a very large percentage of deserters, many of whom cannot speak a word of English.

NORTHWEST BRIEFS

FLORENCE, Minn.—The dedication of the remodeled Church of Opdalsh congregation took place yesterday. A large number of people from other towns was present.

WHITE EARTH, Minn.—Gus H. Beaulieu, accompanied by Chieftain Mayzuskeigeshig Shady and William Potter, left for Washington a few days ago to interview the officials of the Indian department.

LEAD, S. D.—While mines and mills closed down for the day, every employe of the Homestake Mining company and many citizens of both Lead and Deadwood and the surrounding country celebrated at City park with a mammoth picnic, the successful termination of the fire that threatened last spring to cost the company much more than the $1,000,000 figured as the loss.

FORT DODGE, Ia.—Jacob Miloslawsky of Des Moines, owner of the Empire theater, has announced his intention to erect a new theater in this city next spring. The new theater will be a vaudeville house. Ground will be purchased and plans prepared at once.

WEBSTER CITY, Ia.—Judge Lee this afternoon dismissed the whole grand jury panel for 1907 on the ground that the lists had been illegally made up, in that several judges and clerks of election boards had returned their own names on the list. This action will probably invalidate the indictments against George MacKown, the alleged embezzler and firebug, charged with having burned to the ground Webster City's $1,000,000 felt shoe factory.

MILACA, Minn.—The saloon building owned by the Gluek Brewing company and occupied by Jerry Benson, caught fire early Saturday morning and was practically gutted, causing a total loss on fixtures and the stock, which was insured for $1,000. The loss on the building is about $300. The origin of the fire is not known.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia.—Judge Parker has made his first sentence under the new intermediate law when he sent F. McDermott to Fort Madison not to exceed five years. He was found guilty of larceny.

SIoux FALLS, S. D.—Mrs. Helen Smith Cummings has been granted a divorce from Homer S. Cummings, twice mayor of Stamford, Conn., and at present a member of the democratic national committee.

TYLER, Minn.—Christian Sorenson reports to the police that he was held up while walking down the railroad track near here, was relieved of his watch, which he took from his pocket to tell the robber the time, and was fired upon by him as he fled. Sorenson fled down the track to escape. When he had evaded his pursuer Sorenson lost his way. He wandered all night, finally reaching Balaton, although he believed he was on the way to Lake Benton.

PIPESTONE, Minn.—Jack Weir was accidentally killed by the discharge of his gun while out hunting near Lake Benton Sunday with a couple of friends.

CHASKA, Minn.—Frank Gelsler of this city, while out hunting with his son Louis, aged 17 years, shot at a rock and one of the pieces hit Louis near the eye. He may lose his sight in one eye.

MINNESOTA LAKE, Minn.—At the Latusse farm, four miles south of this city, Miss Barbara Latusse was shot through the hand and had the rim of the left ear torn away by the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of John Cass.

If a woman says she would rather be a woman than a man, the men do not believe her, and if she says she wishes she were a man the men call her unwomanly.

LA FARGE PEOPLE HURT IN WRECK

A broken rail caused the wreck of the Duluth Limited on the Chicago, Minneapolis & Omaha road near Millston, Wis., Tuesday morning, in which two people were injured, one probably fatally. The wreck occurred two and a half miles west of Millston, which is in Jackson county.

Six cars left the track. The buffet car, chair car and two sleepers were tipped over partially, but the wheels remained on the roadbed.

Several passengers were injured, but none was killed. W. H. Gaylord, a Chicago traveling salesman, has his leg and shoulder injured. He suffered the most serious injuries of any passenger but like the remainder was able to continue on his journey. The locomotive and cars were undamaged.

Crash at Depot. EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Oct. 9.—The Duluth Limited Monday night ran into a freight train in the yards here, and the passengers were badly shaken up, and a score or more received bruises. The injured:

J. Schreiber, Milwaukee.
H. H. Clough, Dallas, Wis.
Charles Carpenter, La Farge, Wis.
Bert Dyer, La Farge, Wis.
J. J. Ethgrove, Ashland, Wis.
Patrick O'Rourke, engineer of the freight train, Hudson, Wis.
John Fraser, Duluth, Minn.
Louis Miller, Chicago.
M. St. Julian, Chicago.
Evans Lloyd, Chicago.
Jeff T. Brannen, Chicago.
J. Taylor, colored porter, Chicago.
Mrs. M. Champion, Verner, Ark.

None of the injured were seriously hurt but an escape from a bad smash-up was narrowly averted by the coolness of the train hands.

A northbound freight was backing up at the time, but although the passenger was slowing up the two engines came together just outside the depot yards, both engines being badly wrecked.
